Washington, March 3 (AP)—President Truman recommended that Congress let the draft law expire March 31 and disclosed that Army soon expects to release all non-volunteers.

There was no immediate report of the number of drafted men who will be turned loose by the Army but it is expected to amount to several thousand. The War Department indicated it would issue a statement on its plans for discharging the men.

In a message to the legislators, Mr. Truman advised that the War and Navy Departments will request re-enactment of a selective service act later if they are unable to keep the Army at a strength of 1,070,000 men and the Navy at its authorized strength of 571,000 through voluntary enlistments.

Short-Term Decision
He requested that the services be authorized to hire—from funds already appropriated—the necessary civilian help to offset any shortage of enlisted men if strength falls below the required levels.

The White House dispatched the message to Capitol Hill while the President himself was flying to Mexico City for a three-day good will visit.

Last spring, Congress extended the draft law until March 31 of this year and raised pay scales of enlisted men. The idea then was to see whether the armed services could get all the men they needed as volunteers.

The White House decision that the law need not be extended is a short term one so far as general future military manpower policy is concerned. President Truman has repeatedly said that he wants some form of universal training law enacted eventually.

MANY PUPILS ABSENT TODAY; ROADS CLOSED

School attendance in Adams county took another sharp slum after many of the schools had just resumed normal operations. A large number had been closed one or more days by the blizzard of February 20.

Fifty per cent or less of the regular number of pupils was able to get to the county's high schools today, and two high schools, York Springs and Fairfield, were closed entirely.

The high winds which began Sunday night and continued today, blocked off many roads, preventing pupils from reaching school.

When the York Springs school opened this morning, less than 50 per cent of the normal attendance reported for classes. The school closed at noon.

Fairfield Closed
Biglerville high school reported approximately half of its students present this morning. One bus took a load of children home at 10 o'clock, and two others followed at noon. The school, however, remained open all day.

At Arendtsville, conditions were reported bad, but school authorities decided to keep the school open if conditions did not worsen. About half of the enrollment was in attendance.

East Berlin high school reported about 50 per cent attendance, but planned to remain open all day. At New Oxford about one-third of the pupils were absent. Best attendance was reported at Littlestown, where there were comparatively few pupils absent today because of the drifting snow.

Fairfield high school was closed today, where highway conditions were reported as extremely bad. There were no reports available on attendance at one and two-room schools in the county. Many of these were closed from February 21 until the middle of the following week.

Gettysburg high school reported an attendance of 78 per cent today. All but two of the school buses got through. G. W. Lefever, principal of the school, said. The weather had little effect on attendance in the grade schools because most of the pupils attending them reside in the borough, according to Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, school superintendent.

BULLETINS
Washington, March 3 (AP)—The Supreme Court today again delayed a ruling upon the government's contempt case against John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers.

Weather Forecast
Mostly cloudy and continued cold and windy with occasional snow flurries in the mountains tonight. Tuesday fair.

Wind-Driven Snow Closing Many County Highways Today

Adams county's state highway department workmen this afternoon were fighting a losing battle in some cases in their attempts to keep main roads open against blasting winds that sent Saturday's and Sunday's snow swirling across highways and into the areas previously opened in the fight against the two-week old snowstorm that has kept the county snow and ice-locked since February 20.

The Littlestown-Hanover road was closed, the highway department reported at noon today. The Biglerville-Hampton road was closed.

The Mummasburg road was "just about closed," and the highway snow plows were struggling against the drifts on the Biglerville road, the Bonneauville road, the Harrisburg road and the road from Orrtanna to Fairfield. Those four roads were described as "in very bad shape" with most of the sections open to single lane width. On the Fairfield-Orrtanna road one of the plows was nearly halted at noon today by drifted snow.

Starting Sunday evening, the wind howled on through the night and continued to blow heavy drifts up to about 11 o'clock this morning. Early this afternoon the wind was blowing intermittently, highway spokesmen said, and as a result the plows may be able to get a little ahead in the struggle.

Of the secondary roads in the county, about one half are closed by the drifts, according to the reports. State highway department officials estimated the week-end snowfall at about four inches.

Storm Is Widespread
(By The Associated Press)
Sub-freezing weather played a return engagement in Florida and on the Gulf Coast as a storm of "marked intensity" added as much as eight inches of snow in New York and New England.

Snow raging generally from two to six inches in depth left yesterday in the East Central states bringing the accumulation to as much as 15 inches on the ground in some parts of Michigan but temperatures in the area were around normal or slightly below. The snowfall at Chicago measured seven inches.

The Chicago weather bureau said temperatures skidded to readings well below normal in the deep south for the second time this winter following snow flurries in northern Georgia yesterday.

At Jacksonville and Tallahassee, Fla., the Mercury dipped to 31 degrees early today while Orlando shivered in 35 degrees, Tampa, 36, and Miami 46.

Union Service Held Sunday in Littlestown
The weekly Sunday evening community vespers service was held in St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. Despite the bad weather, the church was almost filled to capacity.

The Taneytown male chorus, directed by Miss Margaret Shreese, sang six selections. They were accompanied by Mrs. Motter, Taneytown. The service was conducted by the host pastor, Rev. Kenneth D. James. Prayer was offered by Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church. Scripture was read by Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Responsive reading (Psalm 25) was read by Rev. Charles B. Rebert, secretary of the ministerium.

WOMAN'S HIP FRACTURED BY SKIDDING CAR; OTHER MISHAPS

Mrs. Jacob Sell, 69, McKnightstown, suffered a fracture of the pelvis and contusions and lacerations of the scalp when she was struck by a skidding car Saturday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in McKnightstown.

The accident was one of three caused partially by storm conditions over the week-end, according to reports released this morning by state police here.

Mrs. Sell was standing beside a parked car of N. E. Shultz, Cash-town mail carrier, when a car driven by E. W. M. Hartman, 149 East Middle street, skidded into the side of the Shultz car and knocked Mrs. Sell to the roadway.

Snow Causes Crash Today
The accident occurred, state police say, when Hartman attempted to slow because of another car coming in the opposite direction. As he was about to pass the Shultz car, his machine started to skid.

Two persons suffered minor injuries in another snow storm accident this morning. Harry A. Kroll, 45, Buffalo, New York, left Gettysburg this morning and stopped on the Emmitsburg road two miles south of here at 7 o'clock at the beginning of a one-lane stretch to put on chains. Kroll and his son, Harry A. Kroll, Jr., 19, were engaged in putting on the chains when two trailer trucks owned by William H. Webb, Arlington, Va., came north through the drifted one-lane section. Snow was drifting rapidly and cut down the visibility of the truck drivers, police say.

Woman, Boy Hurt
Howard B. Hill, Washington, D. C., driver of the first truck, saw the Kroll car and swung right, hitting a utility company pole and snapping it off. Claude Warwick, Washington, driver of the second truck, saw the first truck swerve to the right and to avoid hitting it, swung left, smashing head-on into the Kroll car. Mrs. Mary Kroll, wife of the driver and their son Robert 7, were in the car.

Mrs. Kroll suffered lacerations of the face and Robert bruises of the face. Both were treated by a Gettysburg physician. Total damage was $800.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a car driven by a person listed on the police report as Raymond Luther Staley, Gettysburg R. 4, upset three hundred feet north of Heidelsburg on the Harrisburg road. Staley told police that a truck pulled out of a side road and that he attempted to brake his car. It skidded, went off the side of the road and overturned. Damage was $250. Police are continuing their investigation.

Harry Vaughan (right), presidential aide, followed by other unidentified members of the executive party from the president's plane "Sacred Cow."

President Truman Feted By Mexico On 3-Day Visit

Mexico City, March 3 (AP)—President Truman arrived by plane here today, the first United States chief executive ever to pay a visit to this capital. He is here for a three-day official visit.

Artillery fired a 21-gun salute when the president landed at 10:37 a. m. (EST).

Troops formed a line before the airport building as the president's plane touched Mexican soil. The ship left Kansas City at 3:59 a. m. (EST).

President Truman was welcomed by President Aleman, his cabinet, the governor of the federal district, Fernando Casas Aleman, not a relative of the president, and other dignitaries.

Truman came in seven hours from the cold and snow of Kansas City into the summer warmth and sunshine of Mexico.

The airport was transformed for the visit. A great platform flanked by high columns was erected for the unprecedented official session of the consultative council which made President Truman a "guest of honor" of the city. Governor Casas Aleman presented the president with an inscribed gold medal and a parchment.

President Truman, replying to President Aleman's welcome and the presentation of the medal, spoke

More than 100 women from throughout Adams and York counties attended the "Day of Recollection" conducted Sunday at St. Joseph's academy, McSherrytown, by the Conevago Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women.

Starting at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning the women attended Holy Communion and mass in a body. Breakfast was served at 9:15 o'clock after which a three-quarter hour meditation was conducted. Following a period of examination of conscience the group attended lunch and then had a period of meditation in the afternoon after which the rosary was said in a group and the Holy Hour and Benediction was conducted, concluding the day's services.

Among those from Gettysburg who attended were Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mrs. Simon Redding, Mrs. James Beard, Miss Rhoda Breighner, Miss Elizabeth Breighner, Miss Jennie Kimple and Mrs. Harry Cunningham.

County Firms Get Large Tax Refunds

Two Adams county corporations were included in the long list of Pennsylvania business organizations who received more than $10,000 each in federal tax refunds in the year ended June 30, 1946, as compiled by The Associated Press today. The information was made available by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The list discloses that the C. H. Musselman company of Biglerville received a refund of $76,611 on income tax and the Knouse Corporation of Peach Glen, $12,150 in excess profits taxes.

Fifteen Pennsylvania corporations, topped by the Aluminum company of America, received more than one million dollars each in the refunds.

WILL FEATURE COUNTY APPLES IN COLOR FILM

Adams county apples, recognized by fruit growers all over the nation, as the finest in the country, will be the subject of a Technicolor sound film to be made here beginning in May and screened throughout the country and in most of the nations of the world.

This announcement was made today by Joseph E. Codori, manager of the Citizens Oil company and J. M. Gregory, sales promotion manager of The Texas Company.

Cameras and technicians from the Audio Productions Corporation and RKO-Pathe will come here in May, when the Apple Blossoms are in full bloom, to start filming the Technicolor picture.

Shoot Scenes All Summer
At regular intervals throughout the apple growing season the same crews will return to photograph the development and progress in the growth of the apples. They will follow this procedure throughout the season climaxing the color sound film with the picking, grading, packing, shipping and processing of the apples.

Adams county was selected after technicians and other film experts had been invited here by Mr. Codori, through the Texas Company, to make a thorough inspection of county orchards, quality of the fruit produced here, spraying methods, picking, packing etc. This week the experts reported that "Adams county is the most logical place to make the film."

Messrs Codori and Gregory also announced that the feature film will have its premier in Gettysburg sometime in November. After that it will be released to all theatres in the country, to fruit growers associations, schools, agricultural colleges and other places in this country.

Many Translations
Translations will be made in French, German, Spanish, the Scandinavian and other languages for foreign screenings.

Mr. Codori said that he will have films available for other local or nearby screenings in 16 and 35 mm. size.

"This is the first time we have ever attempted such an elaborate production and I am happy that Adams county has been selected as the locale of the picture. I am well familiar with Adams county apples and the practices of your fruit growers and I am convinced the film will be a tremendous success," Mr. Gregory told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

One Fire But Three Alarms Saturday

The Gettysburg fire company was called three times Saturday afternoon and evening but only one fire existed.

The fire, which caused several hundred dollars damage, occurred at the old Stevenson farm, two miles west of town, now occupied by W. O. Drake, Gettysburg R. D., about 2 o'clock. Fire starting in a chimney spread to several upstairs rooms in the Drake home, firemen said.

Second call was to the Moyer-Knox building on Chambersburg street, formerly the Brehm building, where coal gas was pouring from a balcony and caused an alarm to be sounded, at about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. The third call was again to the Drake home at about 5:30 o'clock but it was discovered that the company was not needed.

Fire trucks were balked in attempts to use West Middle street in answering the first alarm. Cars were parked on both sides of the street in violation of a borough ordinance which permits parking on one side only and the fire trucks were unable to get through.

Biglerville To Engage Attorney In Fight For Increased Water Supply

Thirty-four Biglerville citizens met Sunday afternoon to lay plans for attendance at a Pennsylvania Public Utilities commission hearing on service given by the Biglerville Water company, outline their grievances against the company and name a Water Committee with authority to engage an attorney to represent the community at the PUC hearing at Harrisburg on Wednesday.

J. D. Miller, Biglerville banker, was chosen chairman of the Water Committee with Elaine G. Walter, Burgess J. Hoke Slaybaugh, Rowe Martin and John Fidler as members.

In addition to the members of the committee twelve other persons present at the two-hour session held in the Biglerville high school voted to attend Wednesday's session. A half dozen of the group agreed, following the meeting, to attempt to secure additional persons to go to Harrisburg for the hearing.

32 Citizens Sign Complaint
Thirty-two of the men and women present signed a statement giving their approval to the complaints listed and of the selection of the committee to head the fight against the water company.

Sunday's meeting was called by a committee from the Upper Adams County Lions club headed by Clair Shillito and including Cyrus Bucher, Rowe Martin and John Fidler.

Chairman Shillito told the group the meeting was called to discuss "inadequacies of the present water system." He said that the insufficient water supply is preventing the growth of the community. "We can present little inducement to bring outside residents and industries to our town if we cannot even supply them with water," he said.

Miss Mary O. Howard Is Bride Of Donald M. Swope

Miss Mary Olive Howard, daughter of Mrs. Sara Williamson Howard, New York city, and Attorney Donald McCurdy Swope, son of Attorney and Mrs. J. Donald Swope, 49 West Broadway, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Gettysburg Presbyterian church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Dr. Robert Swain, Sr., New York city, father-in-law of her sister, wore a gown of white satin with lace collar and cuffs, and buttoned from the neck to the waist. The skirt had a bustle effect to which was attached a long train. Her finger tip veil was attached to a coronet of white roses. She carried a bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and an orchid.

The four bridesmaids, Miss Sarah Fisher, Williamsport; Miss Virginia Burkhard, Preepot, L. I.; Miss Endie Sarg, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Miss Eleanor Eckles, New Castle, and her matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Swain, Jr., New York city, a sister of the bride, all wore gowns of dusty rose with an oil shoulder effect and fish tail skirts. Each wore pearls and carried a bouquet of roses, sweet peas and snapdragons.

Complain To PUC

The hearing, Wednesday, was brought about by a complaint lodged with the PUC by the C. H. Musselman company, Shillito said. From last October 13 through 18, the Musselman company was limited in its use of water and had to haul water from a nearby stream in order to continue in operation.

On January 9 the Musselman company's use of water was again restricted. The amount it could use was set at 25,000 gallon per day. The company started hauling additional water January 10. On January 30 the company was restricted again and permitted to use only 4,000 gallons of borough water per day. On February 17 the amount permitted the company was increased to 8,000 gallons a day. During all of this time, Musselman officials said Sunday, the company had to haul up to 60,000 gallons of water per day from the creek several miles away.

Conference Tuesday

Attorney Franklin R. Bigham, of Gettysburg, who was invited to attend the meeting as an "interested" person, suggested that the committee engage an attorney to represent the citizens' committee at the Harrisburg hearing. He said that he preferred not to act in that capacity and recommended that an attorney who specializes in public utilities matters be engaged.

Chairman Miller and other members of the committee will confer with the attorney on Tuesday to discuss the Biglerville complaint.

72,000 Gallon Supply

Residents present at the meeting estimated that the pumps at Biglerville push about 72,000 gallons of water per day through the borough mains.

John W. Deardorff, president of council and fire chief, pointed out that at times when the reservoir supply was low the town "did not have enough water to put out a big fire," but added that "it might be possible the water company does not have to supply all of the water needed in Biglerville." He said (Please Turn to Page Two)

SEES UPTURN IN 'SPIRITUALITY'

In spite of social and political dissension, unprecedented debt upon the nations of the world, widespread despair over world conditions and debased morals at home and abroad, the Rev. Dr. John N. Link in a joint Legten service Sunday evening in the Gettysburg Methodist church pointed to "a groundswell of spiritual trends" throughout the world.

Speaking on the subject, "Looking to the Future," Doctor Link, who is a member of the faculty of the Westminster Theological seminary at Westminster, Md., told the audience which included members of the local Presbyterian and Methodist churches and others of signs he has seen of a mounting degree of spirituality in the world.

"There are more editorials in secular publications that have a spiritual emphasis and many returned GI's I know have not forgotten the vows they made in foxholes and on life rafts. There is an emerging ecumenical interest in most denominations."

Christians, he said, must maintain a balance between a realization of the "tragic imminent realities" and the "vast potentialities of the future." That balance can be kept, he asserted, by "seeing divine guidance, in constructive Christian service and in keeping our faces steadfastly turned toward the Jerusalem of our duty."

The Revs. Robert M. Hunt and Floyd A. Carroll conducted the devotional service and there was an anthem by the senior choir.

County Negro Held For Taking Auto

Borough and state police today continued their questioning of witnesses in the theft of an automobile here last December, following the arrest Saturday afternoon of Oliver Francis (Sonny) Carter, 22, negro, of Gettysburg R. 5, on a charge of taking a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Carter is charged with taking the automobile of Clarence A. Vanbrakle, Emmitsburg, a butcher here, at 3 a. m. on December 25. The car was recovered eight miles south of Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg road after police said it had been abandoned. They said the bearings in the engine had been burned out.

Police questioned another negro who said he was Carter's companion when the Vanbraken car was taken, but told Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster that he did not know Carter was taking the car when Carter asked him to go with him.

Carter was in jail here awaiting a hearing this afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Counterfeit Slugs Were Used Here

Admitting that he had made counterfeit quarters, Taylor Williams, 30, Frederick, was fined $200 and placed on probation for a year by Judge William C. Coleman in Federal Court at Baltimore on Friday.

He said he "got sore" because he had lost $300 playing slot machines.

The army veteran, father of two children, also told Judge Coleman he had manufactured 300 of the bogus 25 cent pieces.

Williams testified he had used the spurious coins in slot machines at social and fraternal clubs in Frederick, Hagerstown, Westminster and Gettysburg. He also told investigators he had made the coins from aluminum and babbitt.

of the Holy Land's 700,000 Jews.

British officials reported that Isaac Poli, 30-year-old Jewish ex-serviceman, was shot and killed while bicycling in Tel Aviv when he failed to heed a soldier's order to halt.

Somerset, Pa., March 3 (AP) — Battered by a howling snowstorm, this southwestern Pennsylvania mountain community of 7,000 persons was marooned today by snowdrifts up to 10 feet deep.

Harrisburg, March 3 (AP)—The defense sought today at the conspiracy trial of former U. S. District Judge Albert W. Johnson to have read in full opinions the former jurist handed down while he presided over the Middle District Court of Pennsylvania.

London, March 3 (AP) — Britain lifted the last phase of her ban on electricity-powered factory production today and hundreds of thousands of workers returned to their jobs after three weeks of idleness.

Lake Success, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—A three-man sub-committee of the United Nations Security Council began sifting evidence behind closed doors today on Britain's charges that Albania committed "a crime against humanity" by sowing mines in Corfu Channel.

FIND THIRD BODY IN LOOP BLAST

Chicago, March 3 (AP)—A third body was recovered today from the debris of an explosion that leveled a three-story brick building in the loop yesterday and would have taken a huge toll had it occurred on a business day. More than 30 persons were injured.

The body, that of a man, was taken to the county morgue where efforts to identify it were to be made. One person had been missing and firemen believed the body might be his.

He was Louis Pappas, who operated a restaurant on the ground floor of the building at Wells and Van Buren streets. Police said his wife told them he had gone to the building about two hours before the explosion.

The other dead are Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Koons, Fort Wayne, Ind., who were blown from the street to the elevated structure of the Chicago Rapid Transit tracks. Koons, a taxidermist, and his wife had arrived in Chicago only about an hour before the blast shook the area and shattered hundreds of windows in buildings over a radius of a block.

Only three of the injured were described as in critical condition and Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan said the city escaped a major disaster only by the fact that the blast occurred on Sunday. Had it been on any other day, he added, "hundreds would have been killed."

BREECHES BUOY SAVES SHIP CREW

Cape Elizabeth, Me., March 3 (AP)—Coast Guards, manning a breeches buoy rigging, today dramatically rescued crewmen of the Collier Oakley L. Alexander, wrecked on the rocks off High Head here in a fierce coastal storm.

The first two brought ashore from the 8,200-ton craft were David Rogers, 18, of Norfolk, Va., Messman, and Lorenz Connelly, 40, of Boston.

"All hands are safe," gasped Rogers as he struck the ground after his trip across 150 yards of turbulent shoal water.

The collier, a veteran in Norfolk to Portland Coal transportation, broke in two about 4:30 a. m. (EST) as she neared Poland, her port of destination. A crew of 37 was aboard.

The coast guards, from stations in the Portland area, operated the breeches buoy from a jeep. Unable to drive it in a straightway to haul the lines, a dozen of the rugged coast guards hauled the line by hand while a throng of spectators cheered lustily.

Lashed by the storm, the 250-foot craft lost its bow end a mile offshore. The rest of the craft struck the rocks broadside. There on deck and in the rigging, the crew, which had sent an SOS for coast guard aid, awaited rescue.

Bellefonte, Pa., March 3 (AP)—Samuel B. Jones, convicted of slaying two persons 14 months ago, paid for the crime early today—with his own life. The 42-year-old Philadelphia negro died in Rockview penitentiary's electric chair at 12:34 a. m.—three minutes after he was strapped in. Jones was condemned for the murder of Mary Andrews, 41, and Leon Hall, 45, both negroes, in January 1946.

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Jimmy Demaret won the $10,000 St. Petersburg open tournament with a 72-hole total of 280 and projected himself as the leading money winner of the winter golf circuit. Demaret, who won 2,000 shot the course in four under par.

Biglerville

"there is enough water for domestic and fire use, under ordinary circumstances, but not enough to supply industry at all times."

"Glorified Mud Hole"

Chairman Miller termed the reservoir a "glorified mud hole" during one period in the last two months and added "there was not enough water for 15 minutes' pumping by the fire company."

Burgess Slaybaugh accused the water company of "negligence for permitting the water supply to get so low."

O. C. Rice, Biglerville farm machinery dealer who is developing a new area in the town, said that soon 15 houses will be constructed on his development. Additional water will be needed to fill the needs of these new homes he said. He also pointed out that on one day when he looked over the reservoir, only 15 inches of water was in the upper reservoir and about four feet in the bottom reservoir. He added that he believed the amount of water available to the water company had decreased over the years. At one time, he said, two well and a spring were supplying water. The spring has since gone dry, he said.

Limited Supply for Fires

Blaine Walter pointed out that the fire truck could not be operated at capacity now, because there is not sufficient water available because of the size of the mains, and added that if another pumper is cut in on a main neither will be able to get much water.

John Fidler of the Rice, Trew and Rice company, asserting there is not enough water for fire protection, said that the company is now drilling a well for its own fire protection.

Gilbert Lupp, who said he has constructed a new house on Fourth street, claims that he has been having difficulty getting the water company to attach his new house system to the regular water main which runs past it. All the plumbing has been installed he said and all that remains is to attach the house pipes to the main. He also added that there were days last summer when the water flowing into his house near the end of Fourth street was unfit to use due to odor and dirt. Kenneth Alwine was another who complained of the water having at times an odor.

Part of the money to be used to engage an attorney will come from a sum raised 20 years ago in a similar complaint against the water company. Other needed money will be raised by popular subscription, it was announced.

Those who are planning to attend the PUC hearing Wednesday morning were asked by the committee to meet at the square in Biglerville at 8 o'clock Wednesday morning to go to Harrisburg in a body.

BIG TILTS IN HOT CAGE LOOP RACES TONIGHT

Outstanding basketball games are slated in both the Southern Pennsylvania conference and the Adams County league tonight as the circuits seek to decide who will represent them in the District 3, PIAA, playoffs.

If Coach Peck McNight's Hershey high school Trojans can hurdle Hanover's dangerous but erratic five in a game to be played at Hershey tonight the Southern Pennsylvania conference situation will be in more of a muddle than ever. A victory would give Hershey a tie for second-half season honors with Chambersburg. This would mean a playoff between the two Wednesday night at Gettysburg college for the second-half crown. And then if Hershey were to win that game the two teams would have to go to it again before March 11 for the league championship, as Chambersburg won the first-half race. The conference drew a bye in the first round of the Class A playoffs and so will not play until March 11.

Tie For First Place
Of course, should Hanover down Hershey tonight everything would be simple, for Chambersburg would be winner of both first and second-half battles.

The situation is no less complicated in the Adams County league where a Class C representative for the playoffs must be selected before Thursday night when that team is to meet Wrightsville at York.

At present Biglerville, the only Class B school in the league and thus the representative in the Class B playoffs and Boiling Springs are tied for first place, with Arendtsville a game to the rear. Boiling Springs and Arendtsville are fighting it out for the right to enter the Class C playoffs.

Tonight's games pit Arendtsville against Biglerville at Biglerville, and Boiling Springs against fourth-place Littlestown at Littlestown. And then Wednesday night Boiling Springs must play the East Berlin five at East Berlin, meeting a team that knocked off the Arendtsville club last week. If Boiling Springs wins both games it will automatically go into the playoffs, but should it lose one of the two tilts with Arendtsville downing Biglerville it would seem Arendtsville and Boiling Springs would have to flip a coin to see which would enter the district playoffs.

LEO PROMISES HE'LL BE GOOD

(By The Associated Press)

Leo Durocher, whose conduct on and off the field in recent years has won him the title of "baseball's bad boy," hinted today he intends to mend his ways. That deep and prolonged audible respiration is simply the collective sigh of relief by the National League umpires.

The Dodger pilot, lounging in a maroon bathrobe in his room in Havana talked with writers about a number of things including his meeting with Commissioner A. B. Chandler last November and some of the rules he has laid down for his players.

"The commissioner told me I had done nothing wrong," Leo said. "Nothing at all. But he said he didn't want anything to go wrong and suggested some of the people I was associating with might cause something unfortunate to happen. So I'm staying away from everybody."

"It's not so much certain fellows themselves," continued Durocher, "but you never can tell who they're going to bring around with them. So the first thing I, or some of the players, know, we're thrown in with the kind of people that just aren't going to do us any good."

"That's why everybody, and I mean everybody, is going to be barred from the dugout, the field and our clubhouse in Brooklyn, with the sole exception of newspapermen, photographers or equipment men who have credentials and legitimate business with our players."

MUSIAL SIGNS, ENDS HOLDOUT

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Stan Musial has ended his hold-out campaign and will stay with the St. Louis Cardinals, probably at the highest salary in the club's history. His salary is a secret but the final compromise reportedly is close to his original demand of $28,000.

Back in the Gas House Gang days, Club Owner Breadon once paid Dizzy Dean $25,500 for one year's work, and after that no other Cardinal ever approached such a figure, but a source who can't possibly be wrong says Stan now will get more than Dix received.

Musial, who won the league batting crown in 1946 with a .365 average, has been working on a long-term salary deal based on a $14,000 pre-war level. So far he has failed to realize his ambition of becoming the highest paid man in the National League, but he has doubled his 1946 pay.

BIG LEAGUERS IN BASKETBALL

By JOE REICHLER

New York, March 3 (AP)—The "bloodless revolution" engineered by the major league baseball players last summer appears today to have brought about better results than they had hoped for.

Time was, and not so long ago, when major league magnates gave an emphatic "no" to requests by their chancellors to participate in any off-season professional sport. This winter, however, the club owners relented and as a result, a number of big leaguers flowed into professional basketball association of America some of that big dough the infant basketball association of America has been waving around in an effort to put the court game on a big time basis.

Probably the most significant turn of events, perhaps a portent of things to come, was the acquiescence of Branch Rickey, Brooklyn president to Howard Schultz' request to finish the regular season with the Anderson quintet of the National Basketball League before reporting for spring training with the baseball Dodgers about the middle of March.

Another who appears to prefer basketball to baseball is Long Johny Gee, the 6-9 New York Giant southpaw who has balked at signing at the baseball club's terms and is content to star for the Syracuse Nationals in the National Basketball league where he plays one of the guard positions.

Probably the most highly prized baseball package among the basketballers is Frankie Baumholtz, the 27-year-old star forward of the Cleveland Rebels of the BAA who is tabbed as the Cincinnati Reds' regular centerfielder on opening day.

TAIL ENDERS BEAT HORNETS

(By The Associated Press)

The Pittsburgh Hornets' amazing unbeaten streak has come to an end but the last game of the streak will be remembered for years to come in American hockey league circles.

After going through 19 games without suffering a setback, the Hornets dropped an 8-4 decision to the last place Western Division St. Louis Flyers last night.

It was against the same flyers that the Hornets on Saturday night tied one and broke another circuit record when they smashed the Airmen, 14-4. The 14 goals tallied by the Hornets tied a loop mark set earlier in the campaign by the Indianapolis Capitals and the nine goals the Wasps netted in the final round broke the previous mark of eight established by the Hornets last October.

A new individual scoring record was set by Cleveland's Johnny Holota who tallied two goals over the week-end to boost his output to 47, one more than the previous mark set last year by Joe Bell. Cleveland battled the Buffalo Bisons to a 2-2 tie Saturday and last night downed Indianapolis, 5-2 to boost their Western Division lead to three points over the runner-up Hornets.

Meanwhile, the Bisons came back against the Hershey Bears, Eastern Division Pennant winners, last night and beat the Bears, 4-2, to move over Indianapolis into third place by a point, one point back of the Hornets.

In the Eastern sector, the Springfield Indians strengthened their grip on second place by clipping Indianapolis, 6-2 Saturday and the Providence Reds, 3-1 yesterday. The Reds, who lost a 10-7 game to Hershey Saturday, fell to third place as the New Haven Ramblers tied Philadelphia, 5-5 and then trounced the Rockets, 6-1 Sunday.

RUTGERS TOPS BULLET QUINT BY 69-52 SCORE

The injury-riddled Gettysburg college basketball team dropped its seventh successive game to Rutgers university at New Brunswick, N. J., Saturday evening 69-52.

Coach "Hen" Bream's lads trailed throughout with the exception of the first few minutes.

Midway in the first half the former junior varsity outfit was inserted in the lineup and succeeded in cutting Rutgers' margin to 31-26 at half time. The ex-scrubs played about half of the contest and all put up nice games.

Rutgers' face-breaking offense proved too much in the second half and the home club steadily increased its margin to win handily.

Hatchett, forward, and Parsons, center, both freshmen, topped the Rutgers attack with 15 point apiece. Bobby March again set the pace for the Bullets with 10 tallies, six of which came on as many foul shot attempts.

On Wednesday the Bullets journey to Carlisle to meet Dickinson. The reserve teams will also play.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

Hershey, Pa., March 3 (AP)—This probably is the best town in America for a boy to grow up in. . . . Imagine a village of less than 4,000 population, set off among the Pennsylvania hills, where a kid can use seven swimming pools, three or four gymnasiums, several golf courses, including one which is reserved for juveniles until five p. m., and then go ice skating or watch first professional hockey in the big Hershey Arena. . . . There also is a stadium (capacity 15,000) where occasional college and pro football games are played and where the Pittsburgh pros hold their pre-season workouts. One minor league baseball club will train here this spring and they're talking about importing polo teams to keep the stadium busy during the summer. . . . Perhaps the most amazing feature of this unusual town is the Hershey Industrial school, operated solely for orphan boys. Its athletic record isn't outstanding, but it has the finest equipment of any school this writer ever has seen.

THE OBVIOUS DECISION

After Oklahoma's basketball team clinched the Big Six title the other night, a horde of students besieged President George Cross demanding a holiday to celebrate. . . . Here's how the prexy explains what happened: "I raised the question if they were a representative group. They hoisted me to their shoulders where I could see, breaking one of my garrets during the maneuver. A band was playing, auto horns were blaring, flash bulbs were popping. By that time it was after midnight and I could plainly see that it was a representative group and that if I didn't make some concession, nobody was going to get any sleep."

MONDAY MATINEE

After 20 years on—or bouncing off—the bench at hockey games, Jack Adams won't coach the Detroit Red Wings next season. He'll move into the office of business manager. . . . Doc Blanchard was just one of 60 West Point cadets who decided one class was so dull that nobody would miss them if they missed it one day. They were wrong so that's why Doc is confined to the post for two months. . . . Pitcher Joe Coleman, getting a trial with the Athletics this spring, was recommended to Philadelphia by brother Gilbert, discoverer of Babe Ruth. . . . When Mrs. Joe Turner, widow of the Washington boxing and wrestling promoter, applied for a promoter's license recently so she could assume her husband's job, she refused to be photographed by newsmen. Press Agent Dave Herman figures he can stand one such shock, but don't let it happen again.

BABE WINS TOURNEY

Ormond Beach, Fla., March 3 (AP)—Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Zaharias won her sixth Florida tournament with a 5 and 4 victory over Peggy Kirk of Findley, Ohio, in the finals of the South Atlantic Golf tourney.

Moose Keglers Lose To Waynesboro Team

Despite winning two of the three games, the Gettysburg Moose lost a match to the Waynesboro Moose here Sunday afternoon 2,405 to 2,395.

Mike Tate was individual high scorer for the match with 527. C. Glass of Waynesboro rolled 215 in the third game for the high score for one game.

Next Sunday the Hanover Moose will roll here.

DUQUESNE HAS 2 MORE TO GO

Pittsburgh, March 3 (AP)—Only two teams stand between Duquesne University and its first undefeated basketball season.

The rivals—Georgetown University and the Quantico Marines—both have been defeated by Duquesne in previous encounters. Duquesne, incidentally, is the only undefeated quintet in the nation.

Tomorrow the Dukes run up against Georgetown in Washington, D. C. They easily mastered the Hoyas last Friday, 47-38. On Wednesday, the Dukes go to Quantico, Va., in an attempt to duplicate their previous 51-35 success over the Devil Dogs.

The two victories would give Coach Chick Davies his first unbeaten team in 20 years of coaching. No sure thing bids to individual tournaments have been offered the Dukes, winners in 19 consecutive games, although talk of feelers has stirred the Catholic school's campus.

"Homeless" Team

Known as "the Homeless Dukes" because their own field is being remodeled, the Duquesne players have played many of their home games on the floor of the McKeesport vocational high school.

Seventeen Pennsylvania college teams were in action Saturday night and nine of the quintets turned in victories.

Swarthmore continued its dominance in the Southern Division of the Middle States conference, whipping Haverford 57-39 and removing any doubt of its claim to the division crown. Swarthmore has won nine and lost one in league competition.

In another Middle States game, Delaware edged P.M.C., 56-54, pushing the Cadets into a tie for the cellar spot with lowly Haverford. Both have won only once in nine starts.

Penn routed Dartmouth, 60-50, in Ivy league game; Shippensburg barely squeezed by Indiana Teachers, 60-59; Scranton's Sharpshooters ended their contest with a 42-32 triumph over Bloomsburg; Lebanon Valley overwhelmed 54-30; Muhlenberg trounced St. Joseph's of Philadelphia, 66-47, and virtually knocked the losing Hawks out of the post-season tourney picture; Lafayette shellacked Drexel, 83-53, while Rutgers whipped Gettysburg, 69-52.

Penn State Has 11 Lacrosse Games

State College, Pa., March 3 (AP)—An 11-game lacrosse schedule including two games on a southern trip, have been scheduled for the Penn State college team, Graduate Manager Neil M. Flemming announces.

The schedule: April 7, at Duke; 8, at Washington and Lee; 19, Loyola (Baltimore); 26, at Annapolis; May 3, Syracuse; 7, at Sampson Naval Training Station; 10, Drexel; 16, at Colgate; 17, at Hobart; 24, Swarthmore; 31, Sampson Navy.

West Mahoney Team Suspended For Year

Tamaqua, Pa., March 3 (AP)—West Mahanoy Township high school was suspended from sports participation for one year by the district 11 PIAA committee for using an ineligible player.

The committee ruled that Joseph Petocavage, member of West Mahanoy's basketball team in the North Schuylkill Scholastic league, had played more than eight semesters beyond the eighth grade.

The committee also set June 7 as the final game for the district 11 baseball championship, and approved a request of the Lehigh Valley league to conduct a track meet on May 31.

More than 60,000 British civilians were killed in air raids between March, 1940, and March, 1945.

BULLET MATMEN LOSE 16-12 TO F. AND M. SQUAD

Clyde Cole's Gettysburg college wrestlers put up a fine exhibition against the more experienced Franklin and Marshall grapplers here in the home final Saturday evening but dropped both engagements.

The varsity bowed, 16-12, while the junior varsity was white-washed, 32-0.

In winning four bouts the Bullets became the only team, with the exception of Lehigh, to gain more than two triumphs during a match against F. and M. The Diplomats have won 12 of 13 matches, bowing only to Lehigh.

The Bullet varsity split even in the eight bouts, but the Diplomats won two of its bouts by falls to cop the decision.

All of the bouts were particularly hard fought. Probably the best of the evening was the 136-pound event in which Joe Erb scored a 9-8 victory over Schell. Another thriller came in the 155 event in which Golego barely managed to pin Sassaman of the Bullets in 1:56 of the third period.

Despite losing all of the bouts in the preliminary affair, the Bullets gave good accounts of themselves. The full three periods were wrestled despite any previous falls.

Summaries:

121—McCutcheon, Gettysburg, won 5-0 decision over Herman.

128—Helf, F. and M., won 6-4 decision from Lenker.

136—Erb, Gettysburg, gained 9-8 decision over Schell.

175—Tickner, F. and M., gained 3-0 decision over Gible.

121—Horoshak, F. and M., gained 5-0 decision over Davis.

128—Monstet, F. and M., threw Schmittner with bar arm and half nelson in 1:00 of second period and with bar arm and half nelson in 1:55 of third period.

136—Coddington, F. and M., threw Albright with bar arm and half nelson in 2:09 of second period and with the same hold in 0:38 of third period.

THE UPRUSH OF MEMORY

Imagine for a moment how you would feel should you awake tomorrow morning and not be able to remember a solitary thing as though you were at that very moment being introduced to life! You might at such a time and under such a condition have all your potential faculties, but with memory blotted out there would remain no knowledge within you at all.

It is the constant uprush of memory that gives both buoyancy and beauty to life. The memory of friends long gone forever to some undiscovered clime, of the joys of youth, of the thrills of early successes, and the recalling of unselfish kindnesses, scattered over the years. It was during many weeks of illness, when his life was far spent that W. H. Hudson's thoughts went back to his youth, and it was then and there that he took his paper and pencil and began to write of the early days of his life that resulted in one of the most beautiful and finest of all autobiographies of youth in his book "Far Away and Long Ago."

The late Ray Stannard Baker (David Grayson) also, during a long spell of illness, drew upon his memory and wrote one of his most peaceful essays in his book "Adventures in Solitude." Memory serves us as nothing else. It uplifts us. It gives wings to our thoughts—takes us back into the years and re-enacts many of the most precious and satisfying, as well as happy, events of our lives.

Who does not like to go back in memory to the days of youth, to the times when every day something new and startling appeared to stimulate one's imagination, one's daring, and one's dreams? Life can constantly be renewed through the means of memory. Its uprush, in later years, is a stimulation that satisfies and that can add to anyone's sense of peace, if he will but allow it to do so.

It is this uprush of memory that makes people want to write the story of their lives—not alone because of any pride that they may have in what they have achieved, but more because of the joy experienced in living over again, the stirring, thrilling days and experiences that they have known.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Little Warmth."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People
AT THE CIRCUS

Grandpa at the circus sits
With the children and admits,
Both in sorrow and in shame,
That he has no right to fame.

As they watch an acrobat,
He is asked: "Can you do that?
Can you swing on a trapeze,
Hanging, head down, by your knees?"

Can you dangle by your teeth
With no safety net beneath?
Can you go into a cage
Where the roaring lions range?

Can you walk upon a wire,
Somersault through hoops of fire?
Can you ride a single wheel?
Did you ever train a seal?

"No!" I answer girl and lad,
And it makes me very sad.
Then this question all to crown:
"Have you ever been a clown?"

"Many times," I then reply
With a twinkle in my eye.
"Without spangles or renown,
Grandpa's often been a clown!"

Potato-Tomato Late Blight

Late blight took a heavy toll from tomatoes throughout the East in 1946. And reports from Florida, where the disease started its northern march last year, indicate a heavy over-wintering of blight organisms on potatoes will likely repeat the costly 1946 experience. Therefore, home gardeners as well as commercial tomato growers should begin now to plan strict control measures. The first and by far the foremost of such precautions is a more intimate knowledge of the disease.

While entomologists vary somewhat in their opinions on the matter, growers may accept the fact that late blight of tomatoes and late blight of potatoes are one and the same disease, that the fungi pass freely back and forth between the two crops. And at this point it is necessary to state that the descriptive term "late" does not imply the disease occurs late in the season, but rather that it does not affect plants in the early or seedling stage.

Among the first symptoms of late blight on tomatoes are irregular, greenish-black, water-soaked spots on the older leaves. Similar spots may be found on the stems. In moderately warm weather the disease may spread so rapidly that all foliage is soon stricken as though nipped by a severe frost. Symptoms on the fruits at first are small grayish areas near the stem scar which are likewise water-soaked in appearance. As the tomatoes near harvesting size the areas separate from sound tissue with a thickening green border.

Control of late blight of tomatoes is, as suggested above, intimately related to control of the same or similar disease of potatoes. In fact,

CONVICTS FAIL IN ATTEMPT AT PRISON BREAK

Graterford, Pa., March 3 (AP)—Five desperate convicts, the oldest only 22, boasted today in the solitary confinement of their Eastern State penitentiary cells about an escape plot that almost worked.

The five men, using two prison guards as shields, threatened to cut the throats of their hostages with straight-edge razors unless the gates were thrown open.

Warden Cornelius J. Burke, describing the attempted break Saturday night as the most daring in the 23 years of his penal experience said the men remained unrepentant today. He said they had told of plans to hold up a hardware and grocery store to obtain money, food and clothing to aid their flight to the Poconos or Maryland.

Overpowered Guards

The convicts, all serving terms for burglary and robbery, are Clarence Mullins, 20, Irwin, N. C.; Almon Storm, 22, Castana, Pa.; Dorren Hoffman, 18, Lewistown, Pa.; Arlan G. Schaefer, 22, Hamburg, Pa.; and David Valmont, 20, Clearfield, Pa.

The guard-hostages were overpowered as they guided their prisoners back to cells from the mess hall. The five convicts marched them to the main prison gates and then shouted to the guards on the watchtower wall:

"Open up or we'll drop them (the hostages) with these razors while you watch!"

Instead guards converged on the spot.

"You'll burn if you do anything," the guards yelled at the convicts.

"One of the men with a razor threatened to cut a guard's throat if the other guards came any closer," Burke recounted. "But finally they all dropped the razors and marched back to their cells."

TEACHERS END BUFFALO STRIKE

Buffalo, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—Vacation ended for Buffalo's 71,000 public school pupils today as their instructors returned to classrooms after staging the largest teacher strike in U. S. history.

The week-long walkout of 2,400 teachers was ended by the Buffalo teachers' federation shortly before midnight last night when its council of delegates voted to accept a promise of Mayor Bernard J. Dowd that a pay increase would be forthcoming next fall if the state authorized additional taxes for the purpose.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is scheduled to submit a special message to the Legislature this week requesting that localities be granted authority to impose special taxes, including a special levy for education.

Dewey will submit another message to the Legislature tonight urging adoption of a permanent pay plan for teachers in the state recommended by his special committee on education.

Joseph R. Manch, first vice president of the Buffalo federation, announced that the teachers had accepted the mayor's pledge to provide $300 to $625 increases for the school year 1947-48. The group originally had demanded an immediate $1,025 increase $500 cost of living bonus and a $2,400 minimum for beginners.

No one knows how much we miss you. No one knows the bitter pain we have suffered, since we lost you. Life has never been the same.

In our hearts your memory lingers sweetly tender, fond and true. There is not a day dear husband when we do not think of you. Devoted Wife, Ethel, and sons, Junior and Paul.

EARTH TO THE MOON

By Jules Verne

of physics has imposed on the inhabitants of the moon.

One inexplicable fact preoccupied Barbicane. Why, having passed within such a short distance of the moon—about twenty-five miles only—why the projectile had not fallen? If its speed had been enormous, he could have understood that the fall would not have taken place; but, with a relatively moderate speed, that resistance to the moon's attraction could not be explained. Was the projectile under some foreign influence? Did some kind of body retain it in the ether? It was quite evident that it could never reach any point of the moon. Whither was it going? Was it going farther from, or nearer, the disc? Was it being borne in that profound darkness through the infinity of space? How could they learn, how calculate, in the midst of this night? All these questions made Barbicane uneasy, but he could not solve them.

At length a painful sensation drew them from their watchings. This was an intense cold, which soon covered the inside of the glass of the scuttles with a thick coating of ice. The sun was no longer warming the projectile with its direct rays, and thus it was losing the heat stored up in its walls by degrees. This heat was rapidly evaporating into space by radiation, and a considerably lower temperature was the result. The humidity of the interior was changed into ice upon contact with the glass, preventing all observation.

Nicholl consulted the thermometer, and saw that it had fallen to seventeen degrees (Centigrade) below zero. So that, in spite of many reasons for economizing, Barbicane, after having begged light from the gas, was also obliged to beg for heat. The projectile's low temperature was no longer endurable. Its tenants would have been frozen to death. We may, perhaps, be astonished to find Barbicane and his companions so little occupied with the future reserved for them in their metal prison which was bearing them through the infinity of space. Instead of asking where they were going, they passed their time making experiments, as if they had been quietly installed in their own study.

We might answer that men so strong-minded were above such anxieties—that they did not trouble themselves about such trifles—and that they had something else to do than to occupy their minds with the future. The truth was that they were

"Devil take the radiant orb!" exclaimed Michel Ardan, "which forces us to expend gas, instead of giving us his rays gratuitously."

"Do not let us accuse the sun," said Nicholl, "it is not his fault, but that of the moon, which has come and placed herself like a screen between us and it."

"It is the sun!" continued Michel. "It is the moon!" retorted Nicholl.

An idle dispute, which Barbicane put an end to by saying: "My friends, it is neither the fault of the sun nor of the moon; it is the fault of the projectile, which, instead of rigidly following its course, has awkwardly missed it. To be more just, it is the fault of that unfortunate meteor which has so deplorably altered our first direction."

"Well," replied Michel Ardan, "as the matter is settled, let us have breakfast. After a whole night of watching it is fair to build ourselves up a little."

The proposal meeting with no contradiction, Michel prepared the repast in a few minutes. But they ate for eating's sake, they drank without toasts, without hurrahs. The bold travelers being borne away into gloomy space, without their accustomed cortege of rays, felt a vague uneasiness at their hearts. The "strange" shadow so dear to Victor Hugo's pen bound them on all sides. But they talked over the interminable night of three hundred and fifty-four hours and a half, nearly fifteen days, which the law

GREECE MAY BE KEY TO EUROPE'S FUTURE EVENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

One of the most far-reaching and delicate international issues of the post-war period has been raised by Britain's unprecedented proposal that a big part of her obligations in Greece be assumed by the United States, and the U. S. State department's reply which is reported to be "favorable in principle"—contingent on Congressional approval and British agreement to maintain troops there.

That John Bull should find himself unable to meet his obligations to his little Balkan protégé is easily understandable. He is in the midst of a life-and-death economic crisis which renders him incapable of providing the money necessary—said to be some $250,000,000 for the current year. What some folk may not find quite so clear is why Britain (and the U.S.A.) should feel it necessary to maintain Greece in this relationship.

The answer is that Greece is the keystone of Britain's all-important zone of influence in the eastern not masters of their projectile; they could neither check its course, nor alter its direction.

Mediterranean. As this column frequently has emphasized, Greece is England's last tie-hold on the Balkan Peninsula. Should the British be compelled to withdraw, there's small doubt that Greece, already hard pressed by communistic neighbors, would be swallowed by the Red tide. Athens would take orders from Moscow.

The result of such a development might easily render Turkey—now a friend of the western allies—vulnerable to Soviet pressure so that Russia would at long last gain her heart's desire of controlling the Dardanelles strait—strategically one of the most important water thoroughfares in the world. And there you have the foundations for the collapse of England's control in the Middle East and her lifeline to the Far East.

Were Britain knocked out in the Eastern Mediterranean, the dyke which has been acting as a deterrent to the sweep of the Red tide across western Europe would have

Oil Refinery Is Damaged By Fire

Marcus Hook, Pa., March 3 (AP)—Fire fighters from a half dozen adjacent communities fought a general alarm blaze at the Sun Oil company's 10-7 refining unit for more than an hour yesterday before it was brought under control.

Oil leaking from a valve was listed as the cause for the fire which sent towering columns of smoke into the sky and brought hundreds of spectators to the area. The plant is not far from another Sun Oil unit where a fire last October 3 resulted in 11 deaths.

A company spokesman said damage was "very slight" and will not hamper operation of the plant.

Bankers To Seek Optional Closing

Philadelphia, March 3 (AP)—The committee on legislation of the Pennsylvania Bankers Association urges legislation to permit optional Saturday closing by Pennsylvania banks.

The committee, in a formal statement, said "it appears obvious from many reports of public sentiment on Saturday bank closing throughout Pennsylvania, that the state Legislature would not approve a mandatory bill."

The action of adjoining states has "undoubtedly influenced sentiment in Pennsylvania in favor of permissive closings," the committee statement declared.

Your Income Tax Return
WATCH YOUR DEDUCTIONS
(Editor's note: This is the seventh of 12 stories explaining how you must do what about his income tax return.)
By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, March 3 (AP)—Watch your deductions in filing your 1946 income tax return. They may save you money.
A deduction is the amount of money for personal or business expenses you can deduct from your total income before it is taxable.
You can deduct many expenses. Some kinds of income, being tax-exempt, don't have to be reported at all. The size of the deductions will decide for many people the kind of tax return they use.
Choice On Lon Form
If your income was $5,000 or over, you have no choice about forms. You must file on the 1040 long-form. When you use the long-form:
1. You can take the standard $500 deduction allowed everyone, without itemizing or accounting for any of it. Just take $500, provided your income was $5,000 or over.
2. Or, if your deductions were actually more than $500, you can claim them in full but, in that case, you must itemize every penny.
Suppose your income was under $5,000. You, too, depending upon your individual case, can do one of two things:
1. You can file on Form W-2, the withholding statement, or on the 1040 short-form. Either way you're automatically allowed a 10 per cent deduction for expenses, even though they were not that much.
That 10 per cent already has been allowed for in the tax-table used with those two forms.
2. Or, if your deductions were actually more than 10 per cent, you can use the 1040 long-form. Then you'll have to itemize your deductions, and work out your tax. But you can claim them in full.
Tax Exempt Income
Here's some tax-exempt income which doesn't have to be reported:
Unemployment compensation; life insurance paid because of the death of the insured; social security benefits; mustering-out pay; monthly allowances to the families of servicemen; sickness and injury benefits received through accident or health insurance or under workmen's compensation laws; inheritances or bequests of money or property, although the income from them is taxable. (Gifts to relatives or other individuals can't be deducted by the person making the gift.)
(Exemptions on annuities is too complicated to go into here. If you have a question about them, ask your Internal Revenue collector.)
Here are deductible expenses:
Charitable contributions (the total of them can't exceed 15 per cent of income and can't be made to individuals) to charitable, religious, scientific, fraternal and veterans organizations, and non-profit educational institutions.
Other Deductibles
Here are other deductible expenses:
Interest paid on personal debts, such as bank loans and mortgages; state income and personal property and real estate taxes except those taxes—like paving assessments—which tend to increase the value of your property.
Here are others:
State gasoline taxes (except in Alabama, California, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Utah and Wyoming); sales taxes (if tax is shown separately on price tag); property losses from theft or fire, storm, or accidents; a special $500 deduction for the blind; use of your car for business, which includes the cost of gasoline, oil, grease, repairs, cleaning; union dues, entertaining for business purposes; subscriptions to professional journals, books, newspapers and magazines bought for use in your profession; equipment, tools and instruments used on your job; cost of work clothes and uniforms when not taking the place of ordinary clothing; and alimony (the husband who pays it can deduct it but the divorced wife who receives it must report it as part of her income).
Not Deductible
Unless paid for business purposes, you can't deduct the following Federal taxes: on admissions to theaters and sporting events, club dues, telephone and telegraph services; and transportation, such as railroad and bus fares.
You can deduct for medical, hospital and dental expenses to this extent: up to 5 per cent of your income they're not deductible. After that they are but—
They're limited to $1,250 if you file a return for yourself alone, or $2,500 if you claim more than one exemption. Example:
Your income was $6,000. Five per cent of that is $300. But your medical expenses were $500. Subtract the $300 from the $500. That leaves you $200 to deduct from your income as medical expenses.

HURT IN FOUR
PENNSY WRECKS
(By The Associated Press)
A Pennsylvania railroad engineer was crushed to death under his overturned locomotive and four other train crewmen were injured in four different wrecks involving PRR trains last night.
The dead engineer was W. T. Nixon, of Blairsville, Pa. His train of 48 loaded cars rammed the end of a standing freight train at Kiski Junction, near Freeport, Pa. Robert A. Albright, 27, of Pittsburgh, a fireman, was injured in the same collision. He suffered face burns from steam.
At Belvidere, N. J., three crewmen were injured as a Pennsy freight train plowed into the rear of a standing Lehigh and Hudson freight. Two of the injured leaped from the PRR locomotive as it plunged with its tender down a 20-foot embankment. The third crewman remained in the cab as it tumbled from the tracks and was scaled.
Injured were William Morris, 29, Phillipsburg, N. J., treated for second degree burns; William Phillips, 48, Phillipsburg, and Michael Moreken, 32, Belvidere, treated for cuts.
Four miles east of Gallitzin, Pa., three cars of an eastbound freight left the tracks near the Bennington curve, where 24 persons died February 24 in the wreck of the PRR's crack "Red Arrow."
The fourth mishap occurred at Baden, Pa., 30 miles down the Ohio river from Pittsburgh and the scene of a disastrous passenger train smash-up several years ago.
A guiding or "pony" wheel on the locomotive of a fast Pittsburgh-to-Cleveland train broke off from the engine, raced alongside the train for more than 1,000 feet and flew off the track into a field. Passengers were transferred to another train at Leetsdale, Pa.

Wants Government To Stop Buying Eggs
Philadelphia, March 3 (AP)—The Philadelphia Produce Exchange says government egg purchases should be halted to prevent a shortage and higher prices.
In a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, the exchange said "at this time when shell eggs should be plentiful the eastern egg market is in chaotic condition of unprecedented shortage with prices mounting daily."
"This condition is due primarily to the government program removing volume of eggs from the general market."
Joseph Buschell, an exchange director, explained that there is no shortage now but present wholesale prices prevent the industry from storing eggs for low yield periods. Retail prices at major chain stores here now range from 58 to 61 cents a dozen for top grades.

Truman Asks Congress To Let Draft Act Expire Mar. 31

Washington, March 3 (AP)—President Truman recommended that Congress let the draft law expire March 31 and disclosed that Army soon expects to release all non-volunteers.

There was no immediate report of the number of drafted men who will be turned loose by the Army but it is expected to amount to several thousand. The War Department indicated it would issue a statement on its plans for discharging the men.

In a message to the legislators, Mr. Truman advised that the War and Navy Departments will request re-enactment of a selective service act later if they are unable to keep the Army at a strength of 1,070,000 men and the Navy at its authorized strength of 571,000 through voluntary enlistments.

Short-Term Decision
He requested that the services be authorized to hire—from funds already appropriated—the necessary civilian help to offset any shortage of enlisted men if strength falls below the required levels.

The White House dispatched the message to Capitol Hill while the President himself was flying to Mexico City for a three-day good will visit.

Last spring, Congress extended the draft law until March 31 of this year and raised pay scales of enlisted men. The idea then was to see whether the armed services could get all the men they needed as volunteers.

The White House decision that the law need not be extended is a short term one so far as general future military manpower policy is concerned. President Truman has repeatedly said that he wants some form of universal training law enacted eventually.

MANY PUPILS ABSENT TODAY; ROADS CLOSED

School attendance in Adams county took another sharp plexus blow from Old Man Winter today after many of the schools had just resumed normal operations. A large number had been closed one or more days by the blizzard of February 20.

Fifty per cent or less of the regular number of pupils was able to get to the county's high schools today, and two high schools, York Springs and Fairfield, were closed entirely.

The high winds which began Sunday night and continued today, blocked off many roads, preventing pupils from reaching school.

When the York Springs school opened this morning, less than 50 per cent of the normal attendance reported for classes. The school closed at noon.

Fairfield Closed
Biglerville high school reported approximately half of its students present this morning. One bus took a load of children home at 10 o'clock, and two others followed at noon. The school, however, remained open all day.

At Arendtsville, conditions were reported bad, but school authorities decided to keep the school open if conditions did not worsen. About half of the enrollment was in attendance.

East Berlin high school reported about 50 per cent attendance, but planned to remain open all day. At New Oxford about one-third of the pupils were absent. Best attendance was reported at Littlestown, where there were comparatively few pupils absent today because of the drifting snow.

Fairfield high school was closed today, where highway conditions were reported as extremely bad.

There were no reports available on attendance at one and two-room schools in the county. Many of these were closed from February 21 until the middle of the following week.

Gettysburg high school reported an attendance of 78 per cent today. All but two of the school buses got through. G. W. Lefever, principal of the school, said. The weather had little effect on attendance in the grade schools because most of the pupils attending there reside in the borough, according to Dr. Lloyd C. Keefe, school superintendent.

Wind-Driven Snow Closing Many County Highways Today

Adams county's state highway department workmen this afternoon were fighting a losing battle in some cases in their attempts to keep main roads open against blasting winds that sent Saturday's and Sunday's snow swirling across highways and into the areas previously opened in the fight against the two-week old snowstorm that has kept the county snow and ice-locked since February 20.

The Littlestown-Hanover road was closed, the highway department reported at noon today. The Biglerville-Hampton road was closed. The Mummasburg road was "just about closed," and the highway snow plows were struggling against the drifts on the Biglerville road, the Bonneauville road, the Harrisburg road and the road from Orrtanna to Fairfield. Those four roads were described as "in very bad shape" with most of the sections open to single lane width. On the Fairfield-Orrtanna road one of the plows was nearly halted at noon today by drifted snow.

Starting Sunday evening, the wind howled on through the night and continued to blow heavy drifts up to about 11 o'clock this morning. Early this afternoon the wind was blowing intermittently, highway spokesmen said, and as a result the plows may be able to get a little ahead in the struggle.

Of the secondary roads in the county, about one half are closed by the drifts, according to the reports. State highway department officials estimated the week-end snowfall at about four inches.

Storm Is Widespread
(By The Associated Press)
Sub-freezing weather played a return engagement in Florida and on the Gulf Coast as a storm of "marked intensity" added as much as eight inches of snow in New York and New England.

Snow raging generally from two to six inches in depth fell yesterday in the East Central states bringing the accumulation to as much as 15 inches on the ground in some parts of Michigan but temperatures in the area were around normal or slightly below. The snowfall at Chicago measured seven inches.

The Chicago weather bureau said temperatures skidded to readings well below normal in the deep south for the second time this winter following snow flurries in northern Georgia yesterday.

At Jacksonville and Tallahassee, Fla., the Mercury dipped to 31 degrees early today while Orlando shivered in 35 degrees, Tampa, 36, and Miami 46.

Union Service Held Sunday In Littlestown

The weekly Sunday evening community vespers service was held in St. John's Lutheran church, Littlestown. Despite the bad weather, the church was almost filled to capacity.

The Taneytown male chorus, directed by Miss Margaret Shreese, sang six selections. They were accompanied by Mrs. Motter, Taneytown. The service was conducted by the host pastor, Rev. Kenneth D. James. Prayer was offered by Rev. Frank E. Reynolds, pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church. Scripture was read by Rev. David S. Kammerer, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran church. Responsive reading (Psalm 25) was read by Rev. Charles B. Rebert, secretary of the ministerium.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. Harvey D. Hoover, professor of practical theology at the Lutheran Theological seminary, Gettysburg. His topic was "Lord Have Mercy upon Us." The choir of St. John's led in the music. Mrs. Luther Myers was organist.

Paul A. Harner, director of the New Oxford band, will accompany them.

WOMAN'S HIP FRACTURED BY SKIDDING CAR; OTHER MISHAPS

Mrs. Jacob Sell, 69, McKnightstown, suffered a fracture of the pelvis and contusions and lacerations of the scalp when she was struck by a skidding car Saturday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock in McKnightstown.

The accident was one of three caused partially by storm conditions over the week-end, according to reports released this morning by state police here.

Mrs. Sell was standing beside a parked car of N. E. Shultz, Cash-town mail carrier, when a car driven by E. W. M. Hartman, 149 East Middle street, skidded into the side of the Shultz car and knocked Mrs. Sell to the roadway.

Snow Causes Crash Today
The accident occurred, state police say, when Hartman attempted to slow because of another car coming in the opposite direction. As he was about to pass the Shultz car, his machine started to skid.

Two persons suffered minor injuries in another snow storm accident this morning. Harry A. Kroll, 45, Buffalo, New York, left Gettysburg this morning and stopped on the Emmitsburg road two miles south of here at 7 o'clock at the beginning of a one-lane stretch to put on chains. Kroll and his son, Harry A. Kroll, Jr., 19, were engaged in putting on the chains when two trailer trucks owned by William H. Webb, Arlington, Va., came north through the drifted one-lane section. Snow was drifting rapidly and cut down the visibility of the truck drivers, police say.

Woman, Boy Hurt
Howard B. Hill, Washington, D. C., driver of the first truck, saw the Kroll car and swung right, hitting a utility company pole and snapping it off. Claude Warwick, Washington, driver of the second truck, saw the first truck swerve to the right and to avoid hitting it, swung left, smashing head-on into the Kroll car. Mrs. Mary Kroll, wife of the driver and their son Robert 7, were in the car.

Mrs. Kroll suffered lacerations of the face and Robert bruises of the face. Both were treated by a Gettysburg physician. Total damage was $800.

Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a car driven by a person listed on the police report as Raymond Luther Staley, Gettysburg R. 4, upset three hundred feet north of Heidlersburg on the Harrisburg road. Staley told police that a truck pulled out of a side road and that he attempted to brake his car. It skidded, went off the side of the road and overturned. Damage was $250. Police are continuing their investigation.

Baldwins Welcome Baby Girl Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Baldwin, 35 West Water street, welcomed a six pound 2 ounce baby girl Sunday morning at 6:20 o'clock at the Warner hospital. The baby will be christened Judy Ann. Both mother and baby are reported to be doing nicely. Mr. Baldwin is well known in the community having sounded "Taps" at almost 600 military funerals here during his residence in Gettysburg.

GETS 30 DAYS
William Harris, Gettysburg R. D., arrested Friday night on South Stratton street on a charge of intoxication, was committed to the county jail Saturday by Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder for 30 days, in default of a $10 fine and costs. It was his second arrest in 24 hours.

TO SPEAK IN HANOVER
Rev. Dr. Carl C. Rasmussen, professor of theology at Gettysburg Lutheran seminary, will occupy the pulpit at St. Mark's Lutheran church, Hanover, Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. for mid-week Lenten services. It was announced Sunday by Rev. Dr. John S. Tome, pastor.

DENTAL EXAMINATION
State dental examinations of pupils of the New Oxford public schools, who are enrolled in the odd grades, will begin Thursday morning. Dr. Karl Hoffmeister will make the examinations in the school health room.

Truman With Mexican Ambassador

President Truman pauses to shake hands and have a final word with Mexican Ambassador Dr. Espinosa de los Monteros following their arrival in Kansas City, Kas., from Washington enroute to Mexico City. Directly behind the Chief Executive and Mexican envoy are Adm. William D. Leahy, presidential chief of staff, and Maj. Gen. Harry Vaughan (right), presidential aide, followed by other unidentified members of the executive party from the president's plane "Sacred Cow."

Ambassador Monteros is an alumnus of Gettysburg college and is well known here. His last visit to Gettysburg was at college commencement in 1946 when he received an honorary degree.

President Truman Feted By Mexico On 3-Day Visit

Mexico City, March 3 (AP)—President Truman arrived by plane here today, the first United States chief executive ever to pay a visit to this capital. He is here for a three-day official visit.

Artillery fired a 21-gun salute when the president landed at 10:37 a.m. (EST)

Troops formed a line before the airport building as the president's plane touched Mexican soil. The ship left Kansas City at 3:59 a.m. (EST)

President Truman was welcomed by President Aleman, his cabinet, the governor of the federal district, Fernando Casas Aleman, not a relative of the president, and other dignitaries.

Truman came in seven hours from the cold and snow of Kansas City into the summer warmth and sunshine of Mexico.

The airport was transformed for the visit. A great platform flanked by high columns was erected for the unprecedented official session of the consultative council which made President Truman a "guest of honor" of the city. Governor Casas Aleman presented the president with an inscribed gold medal and a parchment.

President Truman, replying to President Aleman's welcome and the presentation of the medal, spoke

100 AT 'DAY OF RECOLLECTION'

More than 100 women from throughout Adams and York counties attended the "Day of Recollection" conducted Sunday at St. Joseph's academy, McSherrystown, by the Conevago Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women.

The Rev. Fr. Clement White, T.O.R., St. Francis' Preparatory school, Spring Grove, was in charge of the services held throughout the day. Msgr. Patrick F. McGee was present for the Holy Hour held at the conclusion of the services.

Starting at 8:30 o'clock Sunday morning the women attended Holy Communion and mass in a body. Breakfast was served at 9:15 o'clock after which a three-quarter hour meditation was conducted. From 10:45 to 11 o'clock a period of meditation was held and at 11:30 o'clock a conference on Christian life was held. Following a period of examination of conscience the group attended lunch and then had a period of meditation in the afternoon after which the rosary was said in a group and the Holy Hour and Benediction was conducted, concluding the day's services.

Among those from Gettysburg who attended were Mrs. Ralph Johnson, Mrs. Simon Redding, Mrs. James Beard, Miss Rhoda Breighner, Miss Elizabeth Breighner, Miss Jennie Kimple and Mrs. Harry Cunningham.

Also injured in the accident were Miss Mary Myers, 14, a sister of the dead girl, who was thrown from the jeep and suffered a scalp injury, and Mrs. Pauline Myers, mother of the two girls and Richard Myers, 3. The latter two were less seriously hurt.

County Firms Get Large Tax Refunds

Two Adams county corporations were included in the long list of Pennsylvania business organizations who received more than $10,000 each in federal tax refunds in the year ended June 30, 1946, as compiled by The Associated Press today. The information was made available by the Internal Revenue Bureau.

The list discloses that the C. H. Musselman company of Biglerville received a refund of $76,611 on income tax and the Knouse Corporation of Peach Glen, $12,150 in excess profits taxes.

Fifteen Pennsylvania corporations, topped by the Aluminum company of America, received more than one million dollars each in the refunds.

WILL FEATURE COUNTY APPLES IN COLOR FILM

Adams county apples, recognized by fruit growers all over the nation, as the finest in the country, will be the subject of a Technicolor sound film to be made here beginning in May and screened throughout the country and in most of the nations of the world.

This announcement was made today by Joseph E. Codori, manager of the Citizens Oil company and J. M. Gregory, sales promotion manager of The Texas Company.

Camera men and technicians from the Audio Productions Corporation and RKO-Pathe will come here in May, when the Apple Blossoms are in full bloom, to start filming the Technicolor picture.

Shoot Scenes All Summer
At regular intervals throughout the apple growing season the same crews will return to photograph the development and progress in the growth of the apples. They will follow this procedure throughout the season climaxing the color sound film with the picking, grading, packing, shipping and processing of the apples.

Adams county was selected after technicians and other film experts had been invited here by Mr. Codori, through the Texas Company, to make a thorough inspection of county orchards, quality of the fruit produced here, spraying methods, picking, packing etc. This week the experts reported that "Adams county is the most logical place to make the film."

Messrs Codori and Gregory also announced that the feature film will have its premier in Gettysburg sometime in November. After that it will be released to all theatres in the country, to fruit growers associations, schools, agricultural colleges and other places in this country.

Many Translations
Translations will be made in French, German, Spanish, the Scandinavian and other languages for foreign screenings.

Mr. Codori said that he will have films available for other local or nearby screenings in 16 and 35 mm. size.

"This is the first time we have ever attempted such an elaborate production and I am happy that Adams county has been selected as the locale of the picture. I am well familiar with Adams county apples and the practices of your fruit growers and I am convinced the film will be a tremendous success," Mr. Gregory told a reporter for The Gettysburg Times.

One Fire But Three Alarms Saturday

The Gettysburg fire company was called three times Saturday afternoon and evening but only one fire existed.

The fire, which caused several hundred dollars damage, occurred at the old Stevenson farm, two miles west of town, now occupied by W. O. Drake, Gettysburg R. D., about 2 o'clock. Fire starting in a chimney spread to several upstairs rooms in the Drake home, firemen said.

Second call was to the Moyer-Knox building on Chambersburg street, formerly the Brehm building, where coal gas was pouring from a hallway and caused an alarm to be sounded, at about 5 o'clock Saturday evening. The third call was again to the Drake home at about 5:30 o'clock but it was discovered that the company was not needed.

Fire trucks were balked in attempts to use West Middle street in answering the first alarm. Cars were parked on both sides of the street in violation of a borough ordinance which permits parking on one side only and the fire trucks were unable to get through.

PERFECT ATTENDANCE
Those perfect in attendance during February at the New Chester school were Ray Cooley, Ruth Millhimes, Betty Sager, Joyce Ann Trimmer, Donna Lee Yingling, Eva Sager, Dean Stary, Grayson Deatrick, Gene Stary, Charles Gearheart and George Noel. Mrs. G. Marion Stambaugh is the teacher.

Biglerville To Engage Attorney In Fight For Increased Water Supply

Thirty-four Biglerville citizens met Sunday afternoon to lay plans for attendance at a Pennsylvania Public Utilities commission hearing on service given by the Biglerville Water company, outline their grievances against the company and name a Water Committee with authority to engage an attorney to represent the community at the PUC hearing at Harrisburg on Wednesday.

J. D. Miller, Biglerville banker, was chosen chairman of the Water Committee with Blaine G. Walter, Burgess J. Hoke Slaybaugh, Rowe Martin and John Fidler as members.

In addition to the members of the committee twelve other persons present at the two-hour session held in the Biglerville high school voted to attend Wednesday's session. A half dozen of the group agreed, following the meeting, to attempt to secure additional persons to go to Harrisburg for the hearing.

32 Citizens Sign Complaint
Thirty-two of the men and women present signed a statement giving their approval to the complaints listed and of the selection of the committee to head the fight against the water company.

Sunday's meeting was called by a committee from the Upper Adams County Lions club headed by Clair Shillito and including Cyrus Bucher, Rowe Martin and John Fidler.

Chairman Shillito told the group the meeting was called to discuss "inadequacies of the present water system." He said that the insufficient water supply is preventing the growth of the community. "We can present little inducement to bring outside residents and industries to our town if we cannot even supply them with water," he said.

Complain To PUC
The hearing, Wednesday, was brought about by a complaint lodged with the PUC by the C. H. Musselman company, Shillito said. From last October 13 through 18, the Musselman company was limited in its use of water and had to haul water from a nearby stream in order to continue in operation.

On January 9 the Musselman company's use of water was again restricted. The amount it could use was set at 25,000 gallons per day. The company started hauling additional water January 10. On January 30 the company was restricted again and permitted to use only 4,000 gallons of borough water per day. On February 17 the amount permitted the company was increased to 8,000 gallons a day. During all of this time, Musselman officials said Sunday, the company had to haul up to 60,000 gallons of water per day from the creek several miles away.

Confer Tuesday
Attorney Franklin R. Bigham, of Gettysburg, who was invited to attend the meeting as an "interested" person, suggested that the committee engage an attorney to represent the citizens' committee at the Harrisburg hearing. He said that he preferred not to act in that capacity and recommended that an attorney who specializes in public utilities matters be engaged.

Chairman Miller and other members of the committee will confer with the attorney on Tuesday to discuss the Biglerville complaint.

72,000 Gallon Supply
Residents present at the meeting estimated that the pumps at Biglerville push about 72,000 gallons of water per day through the borough mains.

John W. Deardorff, president of council and fire chief, pointed out that at times when the reservoir supply was low the town "did not have enough water to put out a big fire," but added that "it might be possible the water company does not have to supply all of the water needed in Biglerville." He said (Please turn to Page Two)

Miss Mary O. Howard Is Bride Of Donald M. Swope

Miss Mary Olive Howard, daughter of Mrs. Sara Williamson Howard, New York city, and Attorney Donald McCurdy Swope, son of Attorney and Mrs. J. Donald Swope, 49 West Broadway, were united in marriage Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the Gettysburg Presbyterian church. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert M. Hunt, pastor.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Dr. Robert Swain, Sr., New York city, father-in-law of her sister, wore a gown of white satin with lace collar and cuffs, and buttoned from the neck to the waist. The skirt had a bustle effect to which was attached a long train. Her finger tip veil was attached to a coronet of white roses. She carried a bouquet of white roses, sweet peas and an orchid.

The four bridesmaids, Miss Sarah Fisher, Williamsport; Miss Virginia Burkhard, Freeport, L. I.; Miss Enid Sorg, Fort Lauderdale, Fla., and Miss Eleanor Eckles, New Castle, and her matron of honor, Mrs. Robert Swain, Jr., New York city, a sister of the bride, all wore gowns of dusty rose with an off shoulder effect and fish tail skirts. Each wore pearls and carried a bouquet of roses, sweet peas and snapdragons.

Attorney Swope is a graduate of the Gettysburg schools. He graduated from Gettysburg college in 1935 and received his bachelor of laws degree at the University of Michigan. During World War II he served in the U. S. army rising from the rank of private to that of captain before his separation from the service nearly a year ago. Since his return from the army he has resumed his post as junior member of the law firm of Swope, Brown and Swope.

Chevy Chase, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, was best man. The ushers included William Nix, Providence, R. I.; Charles Thomas, Camp Hill; Herbert Schmidt, Reading, and Attorney Richard A. Brown, law partner of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Murray B. Frazee, Jr., sister of the bridegroom sang "At Dawning," "Ich Leiber Dich" and "O Perfect Love" prior to the ceremony. Mrs. D. F. Siegal was at the organ.

About 300 filled the Presbyterian church for the ceremony and an equal number was present at the Hotel Gettysburg for a reception held afterward.

The bride is a graduate of Hobart-William Smith college at Geneva, New York, and is a hostess with the American Airlines.

SEES UPTURN IN 'SPIRITUALITY'

In spite of social and political dissent, unprecedented debt upon the nations of the world, widespread despair over world conditions and debased morals at home and abroad, the Rev. Dr. John N. Link in a joint Lenten service Sunday evening in the Gettysburg Methodist church pointed to "a groundswell of spiritual trends" throughout the world.

Speaking on the subject, "Looking to the Future," Doctor Link, who is a member of the faculty of the Westminster Theological seminary at Westminster, Md., told the audience which included members of the local Presbyterian and Methodist churches and others of signs he has seen of a mounting degree of spirituality in the world.

"There are more editorials in secular publications that have a spiritual emphasis and many returned GI's I know have not forgotten the vows they made in foxholes and on life rafts. There is an emerging ecumenical interest in most denominations."

Christians, he said, must maintain a balance between a realization of the "tragic imminent realities" and the "vast potentialities of the future." That balance can be kept, he asserted, by "seeing divine guidance, in constructive Christian service and in keeping our faces steadfastly turned toward the Jerusalem of our duty."

The Revs. Robert M. Hunt and Floyd A. Carroll conducted the devotional service and there was an anthem by the senior choir.

County Negro Held For Taking Auto

Borough and state police today continued their questioning of witnesses in the theft of an automobile here last December, following the arrest Saturday afternoon of Oliver Francis (Sonny) Carter, 22, negro, of Gettysburg R. 5, on a charge of taking a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

Carter is charged with taking the automobile of Clarence A. Vanbrake, Emmitsburg, a butcher here, at 3 a. m. on December 25. The car was recovered eight miles south of Gettysburg on the Emmitsburg road after police said it had been abandoned. They said the bearings in the engine had been burned out.

Police questioned another negro who said he was Carter's companion when the Vanbrake car was taken, but told Chief of Police Robert C. Harpster that he did not know Carter was taking the car when Carter asked him to go with him.

Carter was in jail here awaiting a hearing this afternoon before Justice of the Peace John H. Basehore.

Counterfeit Slugs Were Used Here

Admitting that he had made counterfeit quarters, Taylor Williams, 30, Frederick, was fined $200 and placed on probation for a year by Judge William C. Coleman in Federal Court at Baltimore on Friday.

He said he "got sore" because he had lost $300 playing slot machines.

The army veteran, father of two children, also told Judge Coleman he had manufactured 300 of the bogus 25 cent pieces.

Williams testified he had used the spurious coins in slot machines at social and fraternal clubs in Frederick, Hagerstown, Westminster and Gettysburg. He also told investigators he had made the coins from aluminum and babbitt.

BIG TILTS IN HOT CAGE LOOP RACES TONIGHT

Outstanding basketball games are slated in both the Southern Pennsylvania conference and the Adams County league tonight as the circuits seek to decide who will represent them in the District 3, PIAA, playoffs.

If Coach Peck McNight's Hershey high school Trojans can hurdle Hanover's dangerous but erratic five in a game to be played at Hershey tonight the Southern Pennsylvania conference situation will be in more of a muddle than ever. A victory would give Hershey a tie for second-half season honors with Chambersburg. This would mean a playoff between the two Wednesday night at Gettysburg college for the second-half crown. And then if Hershey were to win that game the two teams would have to go at it again before March 11 for the league championship, as Chambersburg won the first-half race. The conference drew a bye in the first round of the Class A playoffs and so will not play until March 11.

Tie For First Place
Of course, should Hanover down Hershey tonight everything would be simple, for Chambersburg would be winner of both first and second-half battles.

The situation is no less complicated in the Adams County loop where a Class C representative for the playoffs must be selected before Thursday night when that team is to meet Wrightsville at York.

At present Biglerville, the only Class B school in the league and thus the representative in the Class B playoffs and Bolling Springs are tied for first place, with Arendtsville a game to the rear. Bolling Springs and Arendtsville are fighting it out for the right to enter the Class C playoffs.

Tonight's games pit Arendtsville against Biglerville at Biglerville, and Bolling Springs against fourth-place Littlestown at Littlestown. And then Wednesday night Bolling Springs must play the East Berlin five at East Berlin, meeting a team that knocked off the Arendtsville club last week. If Bolling Springs wins both games it will automatically go into the playoffs, but should it lose one of the two tilts with Arendtsville downing Biglerville it would seem Arendtsville and Bolling Springs would have to flip a coin to see which would enter the district playoffs.

LEO PROMISES HE'LL BE GOOD

(By The Associated Press)

Leo Durocher, whose conduct on and off the field in recent years has won him the title of "baseball's bad boy," hinted today he intends to mend his ways. That deep and prolonged audible respiration is simply the collective sigh of relief by the National League umpires.

The Dodger pilot, lounging in a maroon bathrobe in his room in Havana talked with writers about a number of things including his meeting with Commissioner A. B. Chandler last November and some of the rules he has laid down for his players.

"The commissioner told me I had done nothing wrong," Leo said. "Nothing at all. But he said he didn't want anything to go wrong and suggested some of the people I was associating with might cause something unfortunate to happen. So I'm staying away from everybody."

"It's not so much certain fellows themselves," continued Durocher, "but you never can tell who they're going to bring around with them. So the first thing I, or some of the players, know, I're thrown in with the kind of people that just aren't going to do us any good."

"That's why everybody, and I mean everybody, is going to be barred from the dugout, the field and our clubhouse in Brooklyn, with the sole exception of newspapermen, photographers or equipment men who have credentials and legitimate business with our players."

MUSIAL SIGNS, ENDS HOLDOUT

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 3 (P)—Stan Musial has ended his holdout campaign and will stay with the St. Louis Cardinals, probably at the highest salary in the club's history. His salary is a secret but the final compromise reportedly is close to his original demand of $28,000.

Back in the Gas House Gang days, Club Owner Breadon once paid Dizzy Dean $25,500 for one year's work, and after that no other Cardinal ever approached such a figure, but a source who can't possibly be wrong says Stan now will get more than Dix received.

Musial, who won the league batting crown in 1946 with a .365 average, has been working on a long-term salary deal based on a $14,000 pre-war level. So far he has failed to realize his ambition of becoming the highest paid man in the National league, but he has doubled his 1946 pay.

BIG LEAGUERS IN BASKETBALL

By JOE REICHLER

New York, March 3 (P)—The "bloodless revolution" engineered by the major league baseball players last summer appears today to have brought about better results than they had hoped for.

Time was, and not so long ago, when major league magnates gave an emphatic "no" to requests by their chattels to participate in any off-season professional sport. This winter, however, the club owners relented and as a result, a number of big leaguers flowed into professional basketball association of America some of that big dough the infant basketball association of America has been waving around in an effort to put the court game on a big time basis.

Probably the most significant turn of events, perhaps a portent of things to come, was the acquiescence of Branch Rickey, Brooklyn president, to Howard Schultz' request to finish the regular season with the Anderson quintet of the National Basketball League before reporting for spring training with the baseball Dodgers about the middle of March.

Another who appears to prefer basketball to baseball is Long John George, the 6-9 New York Giant southpaw who has balked at signing at the baseball club's terms and is content to star for the Syracuse Nationals in the National Basketball league where he plays one of the guard positions.

Probably the most highly prized baseball package among the basketballers is Frankie Baumholtz, the 27-year-old star forward of the Cleveland Rebels of the BAA who is tabbed as the Cincinnati Reds' regular centerfielder on opening day.

TAIL ENDERS BEAT HORNETS

(By The Associated Press)

The Pittsburgh Hornets' amazing unbeaten streak has come to an end but the last game of the streak will be remembered for years to come in American hockey league circles.

After going through 19 games without suffering a setback, the Hornets dropped an 8-4 decision to the last place Western Division St. Louis Flyers last night.

It was against the same flyers that the Hornets on Saturday night tied one and broke another circuit record when they smashed the Airmen, 14-4. The 14 goals tallied by the Hornets tied a loop mark set earlier in the campaign by the Indianapolis Capitals and the nine goals the Wasps netted in the final round broke the previous mark of eight established by the Hornets last October.

A new individual scoring record was set by Cleveland's Johnny Hoots who tallied two goals over the week-end to boost his output to 47, one more than the previous mark set last year by Joe Bell. Cleveland battled the Buffalo Bisons to a 2-2 tie Saturday and last night downed Indianapolis, 5-2 to boost their Western Division lead to three points over the runner-up Hornets.

Meanwhile, the Bisons came back against the Hershey Bears, Eastern Division Pennant winners, last night and beat the Bears, 4-2, to move over Indianapolis into third place by a point, one point back of the Hornets.

In the Eastern sector, the Springfield Indians strengthened their grip on second place by clipping Indianapolis, 6-2 Saturday and the Providence Reds, 3-1 yesterday. The Reds, who lost a 10-7 game to Hershey Saturday, fell to third place as the New Haven Ramblers tied Philadelphia, 5-5 and then trounced the Rockets, 6-1 Sunday.

BABE WINS TOURNEY
Ormond Beach, Fla., March 3 (P)—Mrs. Mildred (Babe) Zaharias won her sixth Florida tournament with a 5 and 4 victory over Peggy Kirk of Findley, Ohio, in the finals of the South Atlantic Golf tourney.

RUTGERS TOPS BULLET QUINT BY 69-52 SCORE

The injury-riddled Gettysburg college basketball team dropped its seventh successive game to Rutgers university at New Brunswick, N. J., Saturday evening 69-52.

Coach "Hen" Bream's lads trailed throughout with the exception of the first few minutes.

Midway in the first half the former junior varsity outfit was inserted in the lineup and succeeded in cutting Rutgers' margin to 31-26 at half time. The ex-scrubs played about half of the contest and all put up nice games.

Rutgers' face-breaking offense proved too much in the second half and the home club steadily increased its margin to win handily. Hatchett, forward, and Parsons, center, both freshmen, topped the Rutgers attack with 15 point apiece. Bobby March again set the pace for the Bullets with 10 tallies, six of which came on as many foul shot attempts.

On Wednesday the Bullets journey to Carlisle to meet Dickinson. The reserve teams will also play.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Hershey, Pa., March 3 (P)—This probably is the best town in America for a boy to grow up in. . . . Imagine a village of less than 4,000 population, set off among the Pennsylvania firs, where a kid can use seven swimming pools, three or four gymnasiums, several golf courses, including one which is reserved for juveniles until five p. m., and then go ice skating or watch first rate professional hockey in the big Hershey Arena. . . . There also is a stadium (capacity 15,000) where occasional college and pro football games are played and where the Pittsburgh pros hold their pre-season workouts. One minor league baseball club will train here this spring and they're talking about importing polo teams to keep the stadium busy during the summer. . . . Perhaps the most amazing feature of this unusual town is the Hershey Industrial school, operated solely for orphan boys. Its athletic record isn't outstanding, but it has the finest equipment of any school this writer ever has seen.

THE OBVIOUS DECISION

Over Oklahoma's basketball team clinched the Big Six title the other night, a horde of students besieged President George Cross demanding a holiday to celebrate. . . . Here's how the prexy explains what happened: "I raised the question if they were a representative group. They hoisted me to their shoulders where I could see, breaking one of my garrets during the maneuver. A band was playing, auto horns were blaring, flash bulbs were popping. By that time it was after midnight and I could plainly see that it was a representative group and that if I didn't make some concession, nobody was going to get any sleep."

MONDAY MATINEE

After 20 years on—or bouncing off—the bench at hockey games, Jack Adams won't coach the Detroit Red Wings next season. He'll move into the office of business manager. . . . Doc Blanchard was just one of 60 West Point cadets who decided one class was so dull that nobody would miss them if they missed it one day. They were wrong so that's why Doc is confined to the post for two months. . . . Pitcher Joe Coleman, getting a trial with the Athletics this spring, was recommended to Philadelphia by brother Gilbert, discoverer of Babe Ruth. . . . When Mrs. Joe Turner, widow of the Washington boxing and wrestling promoter, applied for a promoter's license recently so she could assume her husband's job, she refused to be photographed by newsmen. Press Agent Dave Herman figures he can stand one such shock, but don't let it happen again.

West Mahoney Team Suspended For Year

Tamaqua, Pa., March 3 (P)—West Mahanoy Township high school was suspended from sports participation for one year by the district 11 PIAA committee for using an ineligible player.

The committee ruled that Joseph Petocavage, member of West Mahanoy's basketball team in the North Schuylkill Scholastic league, had played more than eight semesters beyond the eighth grade.

The committee also set June 7 as the final game for the district 11 baseball championship, and approved a request of the Lehigh Valley league to conduct a track meet on May 31.

DUQUESNE HAS 2 MORE TO GO

Pittsburgh, March 3 (P)—Only two teams stand between Duquesne University and its first undefeated basketball season.

The rivals—Georgetown University and the Quantico Marines—both have been defeated by Duquesne in previous encounters. Duquesne, incidentally, is the only undefeated quintet in the nation.

Tonorrow the Dukes run up against Georgetown in Washington, D. C. They easily mastered the Hoyas last Friday, 47-38. On Wednesday, the Dukes go to Quantico, Va., in an attempt to duplicate their previous 51-35 success over the Devil Dogs.

The two victories would give Coach Chick Davies his first unbeaten team in 20 years of coaching.

No sure thing bids to individual tournaments have been offered the Dukes, winners in 19 consecutive games, although talk of feelers has stirred the Catholic school's campus.

"Homeless" Team

Known as the "Homeless Dukes" because their own floor is being remodeled, the Duquesne players have played many of their home games on the floor of the McKeesport vocational high school.

BULLET MATMEN LOSE 16-12 TO F. AND M. SQUAD

Clyde Cole's Gettysburg college wrestlers put up a fine exhibition against the more experienced Franklin and Marshall grapplers here in the home final Saturday evening but dropped both engagements.

The varsity bowed, 16-12, while the junior varsity was white-washed, 32-0.

In winning four bouts the Bullets became the only team, with the exception of Lehigh, to gain more than two triumphs during a match against F. and M. The Diplomats have won 12 of 13 matches, bowing only to Lehigh.

The Bullet varsity split even in the eight bouts, but the Diplomats won two of its bouts by falls to cop the decision.

All of the bouts were particularly hard fought. Probably the best of the evening was the 136-pound event in which Joe Erb scored a 9-8 victory over Scheil. Another thriller came in the 155 event in which Golgo barely managed to pin Sassaman of the Bullets in 1:56 of the third period.

Despite losing all of the bouts in the preliminary affair, the Bullets gave good accounts of themselves. The full three periods were wrestled despite any previous falls.

Summaries:
121—McCutcheon, Gettysburg, won 5-0 decision over Herman.

128—Helf, F. and M., won 6-4 decision over Lenker.

136—Erb, Gettysburg, gained 9-8 decision over Scheil.

145—Reigel, Gettysburg, won 4-0 decision over Wendell.

155—Golgo, F. and M., threw Sassaman with a half nelson and body press in 1:56 of third period.

165—Housath, F. and M., threw Morris with half nelson and hammer lock in 1:00 of third period.

175—Tiekner, F. and M., gained 3-0 decision over Gible.

Heavyweight—Reider, Gettysburg, won 8-1 verdict over Mackey.

Jayvee Match
121—Horoshak, F. and M., gained 5-0 decision over Davis.

128—Monstet, F. and M., threw Schmittthener with bar arm and half nelson in 1:00 of second period and with bar arm and half nelson in 1:55 of third period.

136—Coddington, F. and M., threw Albright with bar arm and half nelson in 2:09 of second period and with the same hold in 0:38 of third period.

145—Rohrer, F. and M., gained 8-1 decision over Bomberger.

155—Farrier, F. and M., took 5-2 decision from Sout.

165—Gross, F. and M., threw Fritz with bar arm and body press in 1:56 of second period and with a body press in 1:22 of third period.

175—Bunce, F. and M., earned 6-5 decision over Keller.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE UPRUSH OF MEMORY

Imagine for a moment how you would feel should you awake tomorrow morning and not be able to remember a solitary thing as though you were at that very moment being introduced to life! You might at such a time and under such a condition have all your potential faculties, but with memory blotted out there would remain no knowledge within you at all.

It is the constant uprush of memory that gives both buoyancy and beauty to life. The memory of friends long gone forever to some undiscovered clime, of the joys of youth, of the thrills of early successes, and the recalling of unselfish kindnesses, scattered over the years.

It was during many weeks of illness, when his life was far spent that W. H. Hudson's thoughts went back to his youth, and it was then and there that he took his paper and pencil and began to write of the early days of his life that resulted in one of the most beautiful and finest of all autobiographies of youth in his book "Far Away and Long Ago."

The late Ray Stannard Baker
(David Grayson) also, during a long spell of illness, drew upon his memory and wrote one of his most peaceful essays in his book "Adventures in Solitude." Memory serves us as nothing else. It uplifts us. It gives wings to our thoughts—takes us back into the years and re-enacts many of the most precious and satisfying, as well as happy, events of our lives.

Who does not like to go back in memory to the days of youth, to the times when every day something new and startling appeared to stimulate one's imagination, one's daring, and one's dreams? Life can constantly be renewed through the means of memory. Its uprush, in later years, is a stimulation that satisfies and that can add to anyone's sense of peace, if he will but allow it to do so.

It is this uprush of memory that makes people want to write the story of their lives—not alone because of any pride that they may have in what they have achieved, but more because of the joy experienced in living over again, the stirring, thrilling days and experiences that they have known.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "A Little Warmth."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
The Poet of the People
AT THE CIRCUS

Grandpa at the circus sits
With the children and admits,
Both in sorrow and in shame,
That he has no right to fame.

As they watch an acrobat,
He is asked: "Can you do that?
Can you swing on a trapeze,
Hanging, head down, by your knees?"

Can you dangle by your teeth
With no safety net beneath?
Can you go into a cage
Where the roaring lions rage?

Can you walk upon a wire,
Somersault through hoops of fire?
Can you ride a single wheel?
Did you ever train a seal?"

"No!" I answer girl and lad,
And it makes me very sad.
Then this question all to crown:
"Have you ever been a clown?"

"Many times," I then reply
With a twinkle in my eye.
"Without spangles or renown,
Grandpa's often been a clown!"

1946. And reports from Florida, where the disease started its northern march last year, indicate a heavy over-wintering of blight organisms on potatoes will likely repeat the costly 1946 experience.
Therefore, home gardeners as well as commercial tomato growers should begin now to plan strict control measures. The first and by far the foremost of such precautions is a more intimate knowledge of the disease.

While entomologists vary somewhat in their opinions on the matter, growers may accept the fact that late blight of tomatoes and late blight of potatoes are one and the same disease, that the fungi pass freely back and forth between the two crops. And at this point it is necessary to state that the descriptive term "late" does not imply the disease occurs late in the season, but rather that it does not affect plants in the early or seedling stage.

Among the first symptoms of late blight on tomatoes are irregular, greenish-black, water-soaked spots on the older leaves. Similar spots may be found on the stems. In moderately warm weather the disease may spread so rapidly that all foliage is soon stricken as though nipped by a severe frost. Symptoms on the fruits at first are small grayish areas near the stem scar which are likewise water-soaked in appearance. As the tomatoes near harvesting size the areas separate from sound tissue with a thickening green border.

Control of late blight of tomatoes is, as suggested above, intimately related to control of the same or similar disease of potatoes. In fact,

Dr. W. R. Mills, of Pennsylvania, reports that investigations indicate that the potato strain of fungus builds up or increases its virulence by passing back and forth from potato to tomato plants and that the later stage is then more severe on both crops.

Control measures or plans at this time of the year may be condensed into a few general recommendations:

1. Plant potato seed known to be free from late blight organisms.
2. In regions where such seed is not procurable and the disease has been severe on potatoes, give preference for the Sebago, a variety that shows remarkable blight resistance.

CONVICTS FAIL IN ATTEMPT AT PRISON BREAK

Graterford, Pa., March 3 (AP)—Five desperate convicts, the oldest only 22, boasted today in the solitary confinement of their Eastern State penitentiary cells about an escape plot that almost worked.

The five men, using two prison guards as shields, threatened to cut the throats of their hostages with straight-edge razors unless the gates were thrown open.

Warden Cornelius J. Burke, describing the attempted break Saturday night as the most daring in the 23 years of his penal experience said the men remained unrepentant to-day. He said they had told of plans to hold up a hardware and grocery store to obtain money, food and clothing to aid their flight to the Peconics or Maryland.

Overpowered Guards
The convicts, all serving terms for burglary and robbery, are Clarence Mullins, 20, Irwin, N. C.; Alonzo Storm, 22, Castina, Pa.; Dorren Hoffman, 18, Lewistown, Pa.; Arlan G. Schaefer, 22, Hamburg, Pa., and David Valmont, 20, Clearfield, Pa.

The guard-hostages were overpowered as they guided their prisoners back to cells from the mess hall. The five convicts marched them to the main prison gates and then shouted to the guards on the watch-tower wall:

"Open up or we'll drop them (the hostages) with these razors while you watch!"

Instead guards converged on the spot.

"You'll burn if you do anything," the guards yelled at the convicts.

"One of the men with a razor threatened to cut a guard's throat if the other guards came any closer," Burke recounted. "But finally they all dropped the razors and marched back to their cells."

TEACHERS END BUFFALO STRIKE

Buffalo, N. Y., March 3 (AP)—Vacation ended for Buffalo's 71,000 public school pupils today as their instructors returned to classrooms after staging the largest teacher strike in U. S. history.

The week-long walkout of 2,400 teachers was ended by the Buffalo teachers' federation shortly before midnight last night when its council of delegates voted to accept a promise of Mayor Bernard J. Dowd that a pay increase would be forthcoming next fall if the state authorized additional taxes for the purpose.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey is scheduled to submit a special message to the Legislature this week requesting that localities be granted authority to impose special taxes, including a special levy for education.

Dewey will submit another message to the Legislature tonight urging adoption of a permanent pay plan for teachers in the state recommended by his special committee on education.

Joseph R. Manch, first vice president of the Buffalo federation announced that the teachers had accepted the mayor's pledge to provide $300 to $625 increases for the school year 1947-48. The group originally had demanded an immediate $1,025 increase $500 cost of living bonus and a $2,400 minimum for beginners.

No one knows how much we miss you No one knows the bitter pain We have suffered since we lost you Life has never been the same.

In our hearts your memory lingers Sweetly tender, fond and true There is not a day dear husband When we do not think of you.

Devoted Wife, Ethel, and sons, Junior and Paul.

EARTH TO THE MOON

By Jules Verne

Chapter 26

Soon the lunar pole appeared. The disc only presented to the travelers' gaze one-half brilliantly lit up, while the other disappeared in the darkness. Suddenly the projectile passed the line of demarcation between intense light and absolute darkness, and was plunged in profound night!

At the moment when this phenomenon took place so rapidly, the projectile was skirting the moon's north pole at less than twenty-five miles distance. Some seconds had sufficed to plunge it into the absolute darkness of space. The transition was so sudden, without shade, without gradation of light, without attenuation of the luminous waves, that the orb seemed to have been extinguished by a powerful blow.

"Melted, disappeared!" Michel Ardan exclaimed, aghast.

Indeed, there was neither reflection nor shadow. Nothing more was to be seen of that disc, formerly so dazzling. The darkness was complete, and rendered even more so by the rays from the stars. It was "that blackness" in which the lunar nights are instepped, which last three hundred and fifty-four hours and a half at each point of the disc, a long night resulting from the equality of the transitory and rotary movements of the moon.

The projectile, immersed in the conical shadow of the satellite, experienced the action of the solar rays no more than any of its invisible points. In the interior of the obscurity was complete. They could not see each other. Hence the necessity of dispelling the darkness. However desponding Barbicane might be to husband the gas the reserve of which was small, he was obliged to ask from it a fictitious light, an expensive brilliancy which the sun then refused.

"Devil take the radiant orb!" exclaimed Michel Ardan, "which forces us to expend gas, instead of giving us his rays gratuitously."

"Do not let us accuse the sun," said Nicholl, "it is not his fault, but that of the moon, which has come and placed herself like a screen between us and it."

"It is the sun!" continued Michel. "It is the moon!" retorted Nicholl.

An idle dispute, which Barbicane put an end to by saying:

"My friends, it is neither the fault of the sun nor of the moon; it is the fault of the projectile, which, instead of rigidly following its course, has awkwardly missed it. To be more just, it is the fault of that unfortunate meteor which has so deplorably altered our first direction."

"Well," replied Michel Ardan, "as the matter is settled, let us have breakfast. After a whole night of watching it is fair to build ourselves up a little."

The proposal meeting with no contradiction, Michel prepared the repast in a few minutes. But they ate for eating's sake, they drank without toast, without hurrahs. The bold travelers being borne away into gloomy space, without their accustomed cortege of rays, felt a vague uneasiness at their hearts.

The "strange" shadow so dear to Victor Hugo's pen bound them on all sides. But they talked over the interminable night of three hundred and fifty-four hours and a half, nearly fifteen days, which the law of physics has imposed on the inhabitants of the moon.

One inexplicable fact preoccupied Barbicane. Why, having passed within such a short distance of the moon—about twenty-five miles only—why the projectile had not fallen? If its speed had been enormous, he could have understood that the fall would not have taken place; but, with a relatively moderate speed, that resistance to the moon's attraction could not be explained. Was the projectile under some foreign influence? Did some kind of body retain it in the ether? It was quite evident that it could never reach any point of the moon. Whether was it going? Was it going farther from, or nearing, the disc? Was it being borne in that profound darkness through the infinity of space? How could they learn, how calculate, in the midst of this night? All these questions made Barbicane uneasy, but he could not solve them.

At length a painful sensation drew them from their watchings. This was an intense cold, which soon covered the inside of the glass of the scuttles with a thick coating of ice. The sun was no longer warming the projectile with its direct rays, and thus it was losing the heat stored up in its walls by degrees. This heat was rapidly evaporating into space by radiation, and a considerably lower temperature was the result. The humidity of the interior was changed into ice upon contact with the glass, preventing all observation.

Nicholl consulted the thermometer, and saw that it had fallen to seventeen degrees (Centigrade) below zero. So that, in spite of many reasons for economizing, Barbicane, after having begged light from the gas, was also obliged to beg for heat. The projectile's low temperature was no longer endurable. Its tenants would have been frozen to death.

We may, perhaps, be astonished to find Barbicane and his companions so little occupied with the future reserved for them in their metal prison which was bearing them through the infinity of space. Instead of asking where they were going, they passed their time making experiments, as if they had been quietly installed in their own study.

We might answer that men so strong-minded were above such anxieties—that they did not trouble themselves about such trifles—and that they had something else to do than to occupy their minds with the future.

The truth was that they were

GREECE MAY BE KEY TO EUROPE'S FUTURE EVENTS

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

One of the most far-reaching and delicate international issues of the post-war period has been raised by Britain's unprecedented proposal that a big part of her obligations in Greece be assumed by the United States, and the U. S. State department's reply which is reported to be "favorable in principle"—contingent on Congressional approval and British agreement to maintain troops there.

That John Bull should find himself unable to meet his obligations to his little Balkan protégé is easily understandable. He is in the midst of a life-and-death economic crisis which renders him incapable of providing the money necessary—said to be some $250,000,000 for the current year. What some folk may not find quite so clear is why Britain (and the U.S.A.) should feel it necessary to maintain Greece in this relationship.

The answer is that Greece is the keystone of Britain's all-important zone of influence in the eastern not masters of their projectile; they could neither check its course, nor alter its direction.

Mediterranean. As this column frequently has emphasized, Greece is England's last ice-hold on the Balkan Peninsula. Should the British be compelled to withdraw, there's small doubt that Greece, already hard pressed by communistic neighbors, would be swallowed by the Red tide. Athens would take orders from Moscow.

The result of such a development might easily render Turkey—now a friend of the western allies—vulnerable to Soviet pressure so that Russia would at long last gain her heart's desire of controlling the Dardanelles strait—strategically one of the most important water thoroughfares in the world. And there you have the foundations for the collapse of England's control in the Middle East and her lifeline to the Far East.

Were Britain knocked out in the Eastern Mediterranean, the dyke which has been acting as a deterrent to the sweep of the Red tide across western Europe would have here, causing a spectacular fire but injured no one.

Cause of the explosion was undetermined today.

Twenty-one fire companies fought the fire for more than four hours during a heavy snowfall and a 35-mile an hour wind.

The fire finally burned itself out after firemen prevented the flames from spreading to nearby buildings and gasoline storage tanks.

Your Income Tax Return

WATCH YOUR DEDUCTIONS
(Editor's note: This is the seventh of 12 stories explaining who must do what about his income tax return.)

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, March 3 (AP)—Watch your deductions in filing your 1946 income tax return. They may save you money.

A deduction is the amount of money for personal or business expenses you can deduct from your total income before it is taxable. You can deduct many expenses. Some kinds of income, being tax-exempt, don't have to be reported at all. The size of the deductions will decide for many people the kind of tax return they use.

Choice On Lon Form
If your income was $5,000 or over, you have no choice about forms. You must file on the 1040 long-form. When you use the long-form:

1. You can take the standard $500 deduction allowed everyone, without itemizing or accounting for any of it. Just take $500, provided your income was $5,000 or over.

2. Or, if your deductions were actually more than $500, you can claim them in full but, in that case, you must itemize every penny.

Suppose your income was under $5,000. You, too, depending upon your individual case, can do one of two things:

1. You can file on Form W-2, the withholding statement, or on the 1040 short-form. Either way you're automatically allowed a 10 per cent deduction for expenses, even though they were not that much.

That 10 per cent already has been allowed for in the tax-table used with those two forms.

2. Or, if your deductions were actually more than 10 per cent, you can use the 1040 long-form. Then you'll have to itemize your deductions, and work out your tax. But you can claim them in full.

Tax Exempt Income
Here's some tax-exempt income which doesn't have to be reported: Unemployment compensation; life insurance paid because of the death of the insured; social security benefits; musing-out pay; monthly allowances to the families of servicemen; sickness and injury benefits received through accident or health insurance or under workmen's compensation laws; inheritances or bequests of money or property, although the income from them is taxable. (Gifts to relatives or other individuals can't be deducted by the person making the gift.)

(Exemptions on annuities is too complicated to go into here. If you have a question about them, ask your Internal Revenue collector.) Here are deductible expenses: Charitable contributions (the total of them can't exceed 15 per cent of income and can't be made to individuals) to charitable, religious, scientific, fraternal and veterans organizations, and non-profit educational institutions.

Other Deductibles
Here are other deductible expenses: Interest paid on personal debts, such as bank loans and mortgages; state income and personal property and real estate taxes except those taxes—like paving assessments—which tend to increase the value of your property.

Here are others: State gasoline taxes (except in Alabama, California, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, Utah and Wyoming); sales taxes (if tax is shown separately on price tag); property losses from theft or fire, storm, auto accidents; a special $500 deduction for the blind; use of your car for business, which includes the cost of gasoline, oil, grease, repairs, cleaning; union dues, entertaining for business purposes; subscriptions to professional journals, books, newspapers and magazines bought for use in your profession; equipment, tools and instruments used on your job; cost of work clothes and uniforms when not taking the place of ordinary clothing; and alimony (the husband who pays it can deduct it but the divorced wife who receives it must report it as part of her income).

Not Deductible
Unless paid for business purposes, you can't deduct the following Federal taxes: on admissions to theaters and sporting events, club dues, telephone and telegraph services; and transportation, such as railroad and bus fares.

You can deduct for medical, hospital and dental expenses to this extent: up to 5 per cent of your income they're not deductible. After that they are but—

They're limited to $1,250 if you file a return for yourself alone, or $2,500 if you claim more than one exemption. Example:

Your income was $6,000. Five per cent of that is $300. But your medical expenses were $500. Subtract the $300 from the $500. That leaves you $200 to deduct from your income as medical expenses.

ONE DEAD; FOUR HURT IN FOUR PENNSY WRECKS

(By The Associated Press)

A Pennsylvania railroad engineer was crushed to death under his overturned locomotive and four other train crewmen were injured in four different wrecks involving PRR trains last night.

The dead engineer was W. T. Nixon, of Blairsville, Pa. His train of 48 loaded cars rammed the end of a standing freight train at Kiski Junction, near Freeport, Pa. Robert A. Albright, 27, of Pittsburgh, a fireman, was injured in the same collision. He suffered face burns from steam.

At Belvidere, N. J., three crewmen were injured as a Pennsy freight train plowed into the rear of a standing Lehigh and Hudson freight. Two of the injured leaped from the PRR locomotive as it plunged with its tender down a 20-foot embankment. The third crewman remained in the cab as it tumbled from the tracks and was scalded.

Injured were William Morris, 29, Phillipsburg, N. J., treated for second degree burns; William Phillips, 48, Phillipsburg, and Michael Moreken, 32, Belvidere, treated for cuts.

Four miles east of Gallitzin, Pa., three cars of an eastbound freight left the tracks near the Bennington curve, where 24 persons died February 24 in the wreck of the PRR's crack "Red Arrow."

The fourth mishap occurred at Baden, Pa., 30 miles down the Ohio river from Pittsburgh and the scene of a disastrous passenger train smash-up several years ago.

A guiding or "pony" wheel on the locomotive of a fast Pittsburgh-to-Cleveland train broke off from the engine, raced alongside the train for more than 1,000 feet and flew off the track into a field. Passengers were transferred to another train at Leetsdale, Pa.

Wants Government To Stop Buying Eggs

Philadelphia, March 3 (AP)—The Philadelphia Produce Exchange says government egg purchases should be halted to prevent a shortage and higher prices.

In a telegram to Secretary of Agriculture Clinton P. Anderson, the exchange said "at this time when shell eggs should be plentiful the eastern egg market is in chaotic condition of unprecedented shortage with prices mounting daily."

"This condition is due primarily to the government program removing volume of eggs from the general market." Joseph Buschell, an exchange director, explained that there is no shortage now but present wholesale prices prevent the industry from storing eggs for low yield periods. Retail prices at major chain stores here now range from 58 to 61 cents a dozen for top grades.

What's Happy about a Hospital?

Frankly, not much.

Not for a veteran who comes home to lie long months in pain. Not even during those up-and-about weeks that seem like a tedious lifetime.

Some things help, though. Things your Red Cross does.

Recreation, hobby fun, work with the hands—those help.

Advice on family problems and anxieties—that helps.

Assistance with claims for government benefits, pension adjustments, job guidance, family aid—that helps.

The American Red Cross does it—with your help.

Give—give all you can.
